Police Arrest Two Women In Forgery Scam

by KAREN WILTBERGER

Two women—one from Antioch—went on a six-day holiday shopping spree with an estimated $20,000 of forged checks in November. But the day after Christmas the two did not pass "Go," did not collect $200 and ended up in the poor house.

Following an investigation with the help of 11 Illinois police departments, Antioch and Fox Lake police caught up with the forgery scam of Alicia Larson, 22, of Schaumburg, and Cynthia Lloyd, 25, of Antioch.

On Dec. 27, a $250,000 bond was set for Larson, who is awaiting sentencing in the Lake County jail. Lloyd, who police arrested on a $50,000 warrant, was scheduled to appear in court on Dec. 30.

The two women were sitting pretty after their Nov. 15-21 shopping extravaganza. They purchased furniture, stereo equipment, a VCR, a large-screen television, clothes, toys, to name a few items. According to police, they often brought along Lloyd's five-year-old son and rented a U-Haul truck to move the furniture.

According to Fox Lake and Antioch police, the scam started in May following the theft of a purse belonging to Colleen Follmann from her car in the Oak Brook Shopping Center. In October, Follmann's driver's license expired and Larson renewed it at the Waukegan facility with her picture on it.

Forgery Scheme

Antioch police officer James Foerster shows some of the estimated $20,000 in merchandise that was ripped off by two women in the forgery scam and she told him about Larson's involvement.

Fisher contacted Busch who then called the Wheeling police to go arrest Larson who works in Wheeling.

She was arrested on a Jane Doe forgery warrant that was issued by Fox Lake police two weeks ago.

Fisher said Follmann has changed her name because her credit has become so bad. Fisher added Lloyd's husband allegedly is not aware of the scam.

Forgery is listed as a Class 3 Felony which is punishable by 2 to 10 years in prison or probation or conditional discharge, not to exceed 30 months, or periodic imprisonment, not to exceed 18 months.

"It had really gotten out of hand," Fisher said.

Mason: I'm Still Running

by GLORIA DAVIS

Don Mason, announced opponent of incumbent Lake County Sheriff Robert (Mickey) Babcox in the March Republican primary, has officially withdrawn his candidacy for that office on the Republican ticket.

"But we are not out of it. I intend to run for sheriff as a third party candidate," said Mason after the second part of a two-part hearing into the validity of the signatures on the petitions he filed.

To do this he must gather 8,000 signatures and form an entire slate of candidates for county offices.

Mason actually didn't wait for a decision from the board sitting at the hearing, Lake County Clerk Linda Hess, Lake County Circuit Court Clerk Sally Coffelt and Asst. States' Atty. Jim Bakk.

When Mason withdrew their was no need for a decision.

Hess said that Mason requested that another board sit on the hearing claiming that Coffelt accepted $1,000 for her campaign from Babcox; Hess was also in the Babcox camp and Bakk was between a rock and a hard place because his boss Fred Foreman had just formed an alliance with Babcox for their mutual reelection.

Hess told Mason that by state law the only time the board could be replaced was if someone was sitting in on a hearing on their own campaign.

Hess said "some damaging evidence where people testified they had not signed their own names or had signed other names was heard on Dec. 27 but no evidence was heard at the continuation on Dec. 30.

Hess added that no official decision on any petition was actually made.

Mason said that he admittedly "filed one petition by mistake and added that on the petition on which there was 64 signatures (deletion of which would leave him with an insufficient number of signatures for nomination)" "some people had signed without knowing that moving would make their voter registration void."

Despite Mason's continued allegations that Al Wysocki (who filed petition objections) and his attorney Rudy Magna, Jr. "are Babcox's front men," all three deny those accusations.

"This is a good example of how the Babcox machine operates," said Mason.

"Actually its probably a blessing in disguise, its made a lot of people angry," headed.

Though Mason claims both Wysocki and Magna contributed to Babcox's campaign and Wysocki is a frequent visitor to Babcox's office, Babcox denies that either man is on his campaign staff and says he was at the hearings "as an interested party."

Starting Out...Starting Over...
Or Starting A New Job...?

There are a lot of reasons why people decide to rent instead of buy. For one thing, a good credit record isn't that easy to establish these days. If you're just starting out, chances are you've never needed credit before now - and you probably don't have a lot of money saved up, either. If you're "starting over" well, that's difficult enough in itself, without the added weight of credit hassles and long-term commitments. And if you just started a new job - even though you may be making more money - you may still have trouble getting credit, because most credit agencies put a great deal of importance on how long you've been at your job. That's why, with or without a credit record, we've made it so easy for you to RENT the things you want from RENT-A-CENTER - and still have the option to own! So don't let the high cost of buying get you down: Step up to RENT-A-CENTER today - and have the things you want delivered to your home tonight!

St. Ignatius Installs Father Vincent Eckholm

The Rev. Vincent J. Eckholm has been formally installed as the fourth rector of St. Ignatius of Antioch Episcopal Church.

Father Eckholm was ordained a priest in 1967. During his 18 years in the ministry, he has held both social work and parochial positions in the dioceses of Chicago and Iowa.

Most recently he completed a fine year post as chaplain at Lawrence Hall, a school and residence for troubled boys from problem homes.

While still at Lawrence Hall, he acted as interim priest-in-charge at St. Ignatius from September 1984 through September 1985, following the previous rector's retirement. At that time he accepted the call to serve as permanent full-time rector of St. Ignatius.

Celebration Starts Jan. 6

The 24th annual 12th Night Celebration honoring the Epiphany, will be held at St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Lindenhurst, starting at 7:30 p.m., on Jan. 6.

Music will be supplied by church choirs, the Antioch High School Swing Choir, a flute soloist and carolers.

The service will end with everyone joining in the singing of the "Halleluja Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah."

After services the burning of Christmas trees will take place in the lot next to the church.

Then doughnuts, coffee and hot chocolate will be served in the church. The event is being held to honor those who died for their country.

Christmas Not Over Yet For Santa Ghost Writer

by KAREN WILTBERGER

Christmas is over and done with for most people during these cold January days, but for one Antioch ghost writer the thoughts of Santa are still ringing through her head.

Glenda Tomaschik, director of Antioch Parks and Recreation, knows that Santa has come and gone but she is determined to answer hundreds of letters still being sent to Santa at Toyland Road in Antioch.

On Christmas Eve 245 letters flowed into her office.

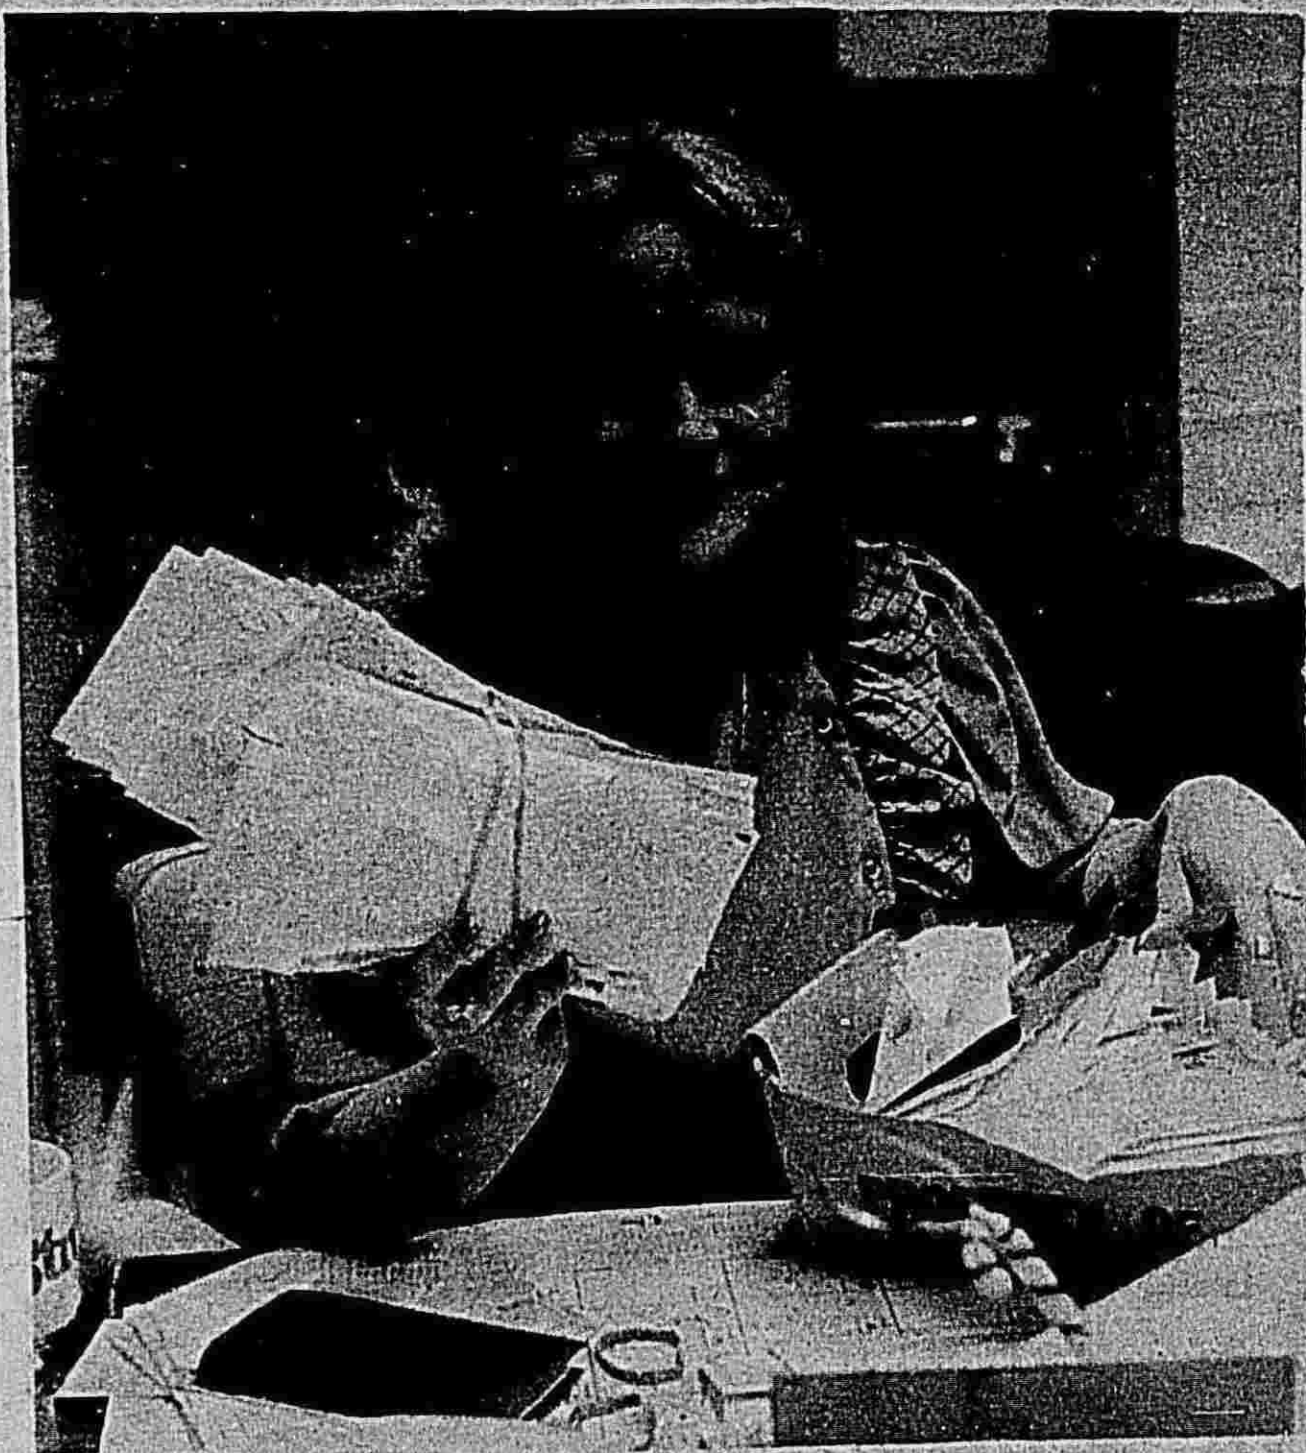

"There was nothing I could do in getting them back in time," said Tomaschik. "I'm beginning to wonder. If this keeps going I'm going to have some trouble."

And hundreds of letters are still flowing in Tomaschik's small office, which she says has become her second home in the last few weeks.

As of Dec. 26, Santa on Toyland Road has received 2,100 letters of which 1,240 have been personally answered. By the time Santa writes back to all his believers, Tomaschik says 2,300 handwritten letters will be sent and 500 to 600 without return addresses will be put aside.

"They'll all be answered at this point in time," she said. "I'll just have to tell them that Santa was very busy and then encourage them to send their letters earlier next year."

Six-Day Spree

Antioch police officer James Foerster walks through the police garage where thousands of dollars of furniture was recovered from Cynthia Lloyd, of Antioch, one of two women involved in a northern Illinois area forgery scam. Police say the women may have bought goods in Kenosha County as well. Foerster said he went to Antioch Community High School with Lloyd and she was a nice girl then and she still is now. "She just got caught up in something in which she should have never become involved," he said.—Photo by Karen Wiltberger.

Shopping Spree

and her identifications in their hands, the middle-class women ordered 200 checks in Follman's name from a religious clearing house in Texas, police said.

They rented P.O. Box 377 at the Fox Lake Post Office, where Lloyd was to pick up the checks of the Oak Brook area nurse.

But 42 checks and an estimated $20,000 later, the duo's scam was broken. Most of the merchandise was recovered in a local storage shed as well as Lloyd's Antioch home, where she resides with her husband and son.

Police said so far they recovered $10,000 to $12,000 with excellent cooperation with police departments in Lake, Cook and McHenry counties.

Antioch Police Lt. Thomas Fisher said the case broke after a tip was given to Fox Lake Police Sgt. James Busch from Round Lake police officer Gerard Hendrix. Police from all the areas where the women spread then united to catch the culprits.

Busch said the two women sold some of the merchandise while some of it was in their homes or the storage shed.

According to police, the investigation included several plan of action meetings at the U.S. State's Attorney's office and the help of police departments of Chicago, Waukegan, Antioch, Fox Lake, Gurnee, Round Lake, Round Lake Beach, Libertyville, McHenry City, Woodstock and the U.S. Postal Service.

Fisher said the leg work was in the hands of McHenry City Police Sgt. Gary Wigman, who located where the checks had come from.

Antioch police arrested Lloyd on a deceptive practices warrant that had been issued by Fox Lake police.

Fisher went to Lloyd's house to arrest on the deceptive practice warrant and saw the merchandise in her home. He questioned Lloyd about the forgery scam and she told him about Larson's involvement.

Fisher contacted Busch who then called the Wheeling police to go arrest Larson who works in Wheeling.

She was arrested on a Jane Doe forgery warrant that was issued by Fox Lake police two weeks ago.

Fisher said Follmann has changed her name because her credit has become so bad.

Fisher added Lloyd's husband allegedly is not aware of the scam.

Forgery is listed as a Class 3 Felony which is punishable by 2 to 10 years in prison or probation or conditional discharge, not to exceed 30 months, or periodic imprisonment, not to exceed 18 months.

"It had really gotten out of hand," Fisher said.

There Are Factors That Influence Congestion

by PAT DeANGELIS

Question: Are there dietary factors that influence sinus congestion?

Answer: Sinus congestion is an accumulation of mucous secretions within the sinus cavities. The discomfort of this congestion occurs when there is excess mucous for the available cavity space.

Some people have smaller sinus cavities than other and some have frequent swelling of sinuses resulting in the need to reduce mucous secretions. There are foods that aid in production of mucous and may need to be limited if sinus congestion is frequent.

These foods are dairy products, especially cheese, milk and ice cream and wheat products which includes bread, crackers, macaroni and spaghetti, cereals, cakes, and cookies.

Rotating intake of these foods to one serving every other day or limiting to one dairy product and one wheat product daily often is helpful in preventing severe congestion.

If the congestion is significant and chronic, it often leads to a sinus infection which will necessitate medication for treatment. During times of infection all mucous producing foods should be eliminated.

Increasing water intake to four to six glasses daily, will aid in facilitating the flow of the mucous and preventing the accumulation associated with congestion.

Also, promoting drainage with appropriate muscle stretching exercise and pressure points are often beneficial.

Young children are often afflicted with frequent ear infections. Most of the time the cause relates to a very small (under-developed) eustachian tube with an accumulation of mucous that has stagnated and become infected.

Eliminating dairy products often aids in reducing the recurrence of these infections. As the head areas clear the dairy products may be gradually placed back into the diet in appropriate balance.

Participants can also check out the Thrift Store for deserts to take home. The trip will be on Wednesday Jan. 22, leaving Warren Twp. Center at 9 a.m. and returning at 11:30 a.m.

For more information, call (312) 244-1101.

"Sally didn't want to go to her grandfather's funeral . . ."

At first, the family was upset. Then, the funeral director assured them that Sally's reaction was perfectly normal. He also took time to explain how all the family members could help Sally work through her grief for her grandfather."

We help the whole family in times of need.

Recall Day Of Glory In Nation's Capitol

By John Steinke

My friends call me Charlie Brown. I have never been more depressed. I could stab myself with my poison pen. Ya, I know what the politicians are screaming: "Do it! Do it!" Sorry, folks, I can't satisfy your wishes. You know that I have a solemn obligation to write a weekly column for my 12 readers.

As a devout Green Bay Packer fan, this football season has been the most disastrous in my lifetime. The Pack couldn't beat the Little Sisters of the Poor while the hated Chicago Bears are heading for their first Super Bowl victory. Do you realize that a pickup team from Lakeland Newspapers could have defeated two teams that slaughtered the Packers? They were the St. Louis Cardinals and the Indianapolis Colts.

This Sunday, Mike Ditka's Bears will be winning their first playoff game to the hysterical cheers of thousands in Soldier's Field. At the same time, the snow will be swirling around the deserted and frozen Lambeau Field. Yet, I know that the legendary Vincent Thomas Lombardi will be prowling the empty sidelines like Marley's Ghost.

Steinke On Politics

Oh, why didn't I appreciate the glory of Chicago, and had been an area resident for the past 10 years? That was when Green Bay was known as "Title Town, USA." It was the Lombardi Era. Excuse me while I wipe the tears from my vacant eyes. Vince Lombardi saved the Green Bay Franchise. Coach Lombardi picked up the pieces of a team, which had won only one game, tied one and lost 10 in 1958.

In nine glorious years (1959-1967), Lombardi's teams won 141 games, lost 39, and tied four. The Packers became the standard by which all professional football teams are measured by winning seven divisional titles, five NFL championships, and the first two Super Bowls. Do you know that Lombardi died of cancer the first day that I arrived in Lake County in 1970?

Now, I don't want my Packer friends to think that I am running up the white flag. Next fall, I will describe some of the great Packer victories over the Monsters of the Midway in my column. If Publisher Bill Schroeder doesn't like it, he can fire me like President Harry S. Truman dismissed General Douglas MacArthur during the Korean War.

But this column will describe the most devastating rout in National Football League history. On Dec. 8, 1940, the Chicago Bears met the Washington Redskins at Griffith Stadium in Washington in the NFL championship game, forerunner of the Super Bowl. The handicappers rated the teams even, but what did they know. The Bears won, 73-0. No, it isn't a typo. Chicago really beat Washington, 73-0.

Only three weeks before the 1940 title game, the Redskins had beaten the Bears, 7-3, in the regular season. On the final play of that game, the Bears threw a pass to Bill Osmanski which was ruled incomplete. Had the pass been completed, Chicago could have won. The Bears complained bitterly that Washington's Frank Filchock had illegally grabbed the receiver's arms so that the ball hit Osmanski on the chest and fell dead.

The victory prompted Washington owner George Preston Marshall to comment: "The Bears are a team that folds under pressure in the second half against a good team. If they come down here to play us in the championship game, they'll have to win by a big score or they won't win at all." The Washington win helped the Redskins achieve 9 wins and 2 losses while the Bears were 8 and 3. This game set the stage for the classic confrontation between professional football's two divisional winners for the championship of the world.

Owner-coach George Halas and his assistant Clark Shaughnessy had designated a new T-formation attack for the 1940 Monsters of the Midway. On the first play from scrimmage of the championship game, Bears' QB Sid Luckman sent HB George McAfee in a probing thrust up the middle for 8 yards. Luckman learned precisely what he wanted to know. The Redskins were using the identical defensive alignment that they had used three weeks earlier in defeating these same Chicago Bears. "Same defense, fellows," said Luckman in the middle of the huddle. "Let's go."

On the next play, Luckman flanked end Ken Kavanaugh to the left and sent McAfee in motion to that direction, spreading the Redskin defense. Then Luckman handed the ball to FB Bill Osmanski, who fled 68 yards for the opening touchdown. At right end for the Bears was George Wilson. He cut diagonally across the field as Bullet Bill darted across the left sidelines. Two Washington defenders, Ed Justice and Charlie Malone, drew beads on Osmanski. But Wilson Erased both with one prodigious block. It cleared the course for Bears' first TD.

So the Chicago Bears played in a fashion unmatched by any pro team before or since. Ten different men scored the 11 touchdowns and six different players contributed the 7 extra points. The officials were running out of footballs, which were being kicked into the stands for PATs. Finally, Coach Halas instructed his center, Bulldog Turner, to make a poor pass to the holder, Bob Synder. Turner disregarded Halas' order. He hit Snyder with a perfect snap. Synder dropped the football, but Joe Stydahar kicked it through the uprights.

The Bears tried to pass for its last two extra points. When the game ended, Washington had just one football remaining. The Redskins' mascot, a boxer named "Princess," chewed it up. The 73-0 victory restored the Bears' pride. It also persuaded the rest of NFL that the modern T-formation offense was here to stay.

Name Rinella Trustee

The chairman of the Allendale Assn., Mr. Bernard Rinella, has announced the two-year appointment of Mr. Fred Feldman to the Allendale Assn.'s Board of Trustees.

Mr. Feldman is a senior vice president and middle states regional manager of Rollins Burdick Hunter Company.

Allendale is a residential, therapeutic, educational treatment center which has provided a "school-home type learning environment" for emotionally troubled youth since 1897.

The Allendale Assn. is directed by a distinguished board of trustees who govern the policies and programs of the school and of the association.

They are also responsible for raising private funds to support the capital and operational needs of the association's programs.

The appointment of Mr. Feldman was made at the association's 1985 annual meeting, which was held on their Lake Villa campus. Mr. Feldman resides in Kenilworth.

Pack 90 Presents Awards

Den 3 of Cub Scout Pack 90 presented a Christmas skit at the Cub's Christmas celebration, after which the following awards were presented:

Wolf - Bob Carlson, Jim Weiler, Tom Nobel, Jon Janeszewski, Joe Oswalob and Jason Pequeno; Bear - Ryan Bailly; Bobcat - Mike Bekta;

The Pack named Lisa Corelli 'Den Leader of the Year' for the district.

Steitz's Toboggan Slide

The oldest toboggan slide in Lake County, to be found at Steitz's Resort off of Grass Lake Rd., south of Antioch, is open and waiting for area tobogganers.

Oldest Toboggan Slide In County Is Open

Steitz's Resort, located three miles south of Antioch on Grass Lake Rd. is a well known landmark of the Antioch area since 1938. Although primarily established as a boating and fishing resort, Steitz's Resort has a widely acclaimed reputation for establishing and maintaining the oldest and longest running toboggan slide in Lake County.

The original slide built by John Steitz Sr. in 1938 was a dirt chute, with a vertical drop of 30 feet gliding its customers rapidly on the surface of Bluff Lake. Heavy wooden toboggans were the only kind used and they were launched by hand atop Steitz toboggan hill by Steitz himself and his son.

Today's toboggan slide, built in 1975 by John Steitz, Jr. is a wood chute, with a vertical drop of approximately 40 feet extending on to the lake. Each toboggan is controlled by an operator and the chute accommodates all types of toboggans.

New light-weight, rugged plastic toboggans are for rent at the resort and are extremely versatile for all weather conditions.

No snow is required for today's toboggan slide as the chute is iced; and the newer toboggans allow for a fast, fun ride in all weather condition.

The 1985-86 winter toboggan season opens Friday, Dec. 27 at 6 p.m. Hours are weekends: Friday, 6 p.m. - midnight; Saturday, noon - midnight; and Sunday, noon till 9 p.m.

Rates are $5 per person and tickets are good for the entire day and night!

Toboggans rent for $1 per hour with a minimum charge of $2. Group outings are available by reservation weekdays only. Call (312) 395-4050 after Dec. 27.

This landmark toboggan slide has been a popular, safe, and economical winter sport for the entire family, schools and groups in Lake County for almost 50 years; located on the beautiful, scenic winter wonderland of the Chain of Lakes.

Women Aglow Luncheon

Women's Aglow Fellowship, Crystal Lake/McHenry Chapter, will host a monthly luncheon meeting at 10:30 a.m. promptly, on Jan. 9 at John Evans Inn. The speaker will be Beverly Rudesill who will speak on the subject of trust. The location of the inn is Rte. 14 and Virginia Rd., Crystal Lake. For reservations call Florence Lundsgaard at (312) 639-2243 or Barbara Zimmerman at (815) 338-1768.

Fantasia Productions Announces Season

Fantasia Productions has announced its 1986 Dinner Theatre season to be presented at Andre's Steak and Seafood House in Richmond.

This winter's season consists of two blockbuster comedies and an original musical revue. Leading off the trilogy will be Bernard Slade's very popular "Same Time Next Year" which will run through the month of January.

This long-running Broadway hit is about a love affair which takes place only once a year and reflects 25 years of American manners, morals and attitudes in the likenesses of George and Doris. The plays two characters.

This delicious, and very moral kind of immoral play, is the funniest comedy about love and adultery to come out of Broadway in many years.

Holding down the center slot and running through February is Neil Simon's "Barefoot In The Park", a loving comedy about a pair of newlyweds and their struggle to adjust to each other while at the same time arranging a blind date for a straight laced mother and a Bohemian neighbor known as the 'Bluebeard of 53rd Street.'

This early Neil Simon has all the warmth and humor that has made him one of the most outstanding playwrights of the last 20 years.

Closing out the winter season and running throughout the month of March will be an original musical revue entitled "Jukebox Saturday Night"—a not too reverent and nostalgic look at some of the popular jukebox favorites of the 40's, 50's and early 60's. This delightful look at yesterday's music will be served by six very talented area performers.

Professional quality theatre is available locally as theatre only or a dinner/theatre package by calling (815) 678-2671. Reservations are required. Season tickets and special group rates are available.

Players Have Hectic Benefit Treasure Hunt

The Kirk Players gave a helping hand to the Libertyville, Mundelein and Vernon Hills Chamber of Commerce by taking part in their fund raising treasure hunt.

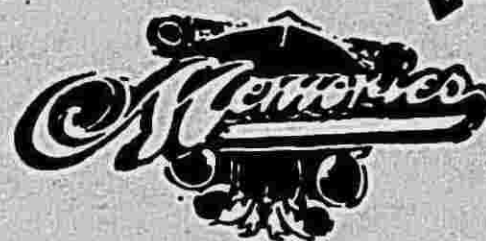

Players were assigned specific characters to portray and were stationed at various locations in the Libertyville, Mundelein and Vernon Hills area. The list of crazy characters included: a bum (Jesse Becker) at the garbage dump; Neptune's daughter (Terry Sapp), at the end of a pier on Diamond Lake; a troll (Steve Sapp) at the "troll bridge" in New Century Park; a cat (Janell Settecase) at the local cat clinic; a ghost (Wendi Lynn) and friend (Jeff Lynn) at the Lakeside Cemetery; Count Dracula and his victim (Hill and Phyllis Carter) at the Libertyville, Mundelein and Vernon Hills office; a couple of lovers in the midst of passion (Paula Willems and Floyd Baker) in a room at the Holiday Inn; a beauty contest contestant (Tracy Knox first runner up in the Miss Mundelein Pageant) and the announcer (John Lynn) at Quig's Apple Orchard.

Treasure hunters were given an initial clue that led them on into their clue gathering odyssey. They searched out the locations one by one, each time receiving a new clue for the next stop.

Babcox Advises Use Of Burglar Alarms

"Protect your house with a burglar alarm...but don't advertise it with a sticker from an alarm company," Lake County Sheriff Robert H. Babcox advises. "That shows you have something worth stealing, and if a crook knows the company name, he can figure out the alarm system more easily."

This is the last in a four-part series in effort to educate and inform the public on crime prevention, Babcox said.

Everyone knows it's important to lock the doors when you go out," the sheriff says. "But it's just as important to keep them locked when you're in. If you have a good, solid door, get a dead-bolt mortise lock. More secure of all are vertical bolt locks and bar locks. Door chains are useless—they give a false sense of security."

Install a peephole in the door and check the identity of all callers, including repairmen, deliverymen, or salespersons, Babcox said.

"Keep windows locked. Buy special key locks or try the 'pin' approach. Drill an angled hole through the top frame of the lower window partially into the frame of the upper window. Then insert a nail or an eyebolt. Simply remove the nail or eyebolt when you want to open the window," he said.

"Don't let strangers in to use your telephone. Offer to make the call for them. Make sure you don't hide the keys outside. Thieves and burglars know all the best hiding spots," Babcox said.

"About 80 percent of burglaries take place when no one is at home. But if you do hear someone breaking in while you're there, YELL!

Make as much noise as possible. A small yapping dog can turn away burglars, and noise is the best thing a dog can provide. Call the police immediately," the sheriff said.

If you're a woman, don't list your first name on your mailbox or in the telephone directory. Use initials and last name only.

By working together and "thinking" crime prevention, we can all make our county a safer place to live," Sheriff Babcox concluded.

Santa Letters

Santa's full-time helpers, Carol Kube and Sarah Leurssen, of Antioch, along with some part-timers will also be hard at work the next few weeks.

The furthest letters to Santa in Antioch came from Denmark. Other letters came from California, Texas, North Carolina, Indiana, New York, Tennessee, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Arizona and all parts of Illinois.

Answering the Danish letter as well as a Spanish letter was quite a challenge for this ghost writer. Though Tomaschik is of Danish decent, it took her several weeks to track down somebody who could read the language. Finally, she contacted Mr. and Mrs. Johanssen, who live in Cedar Village in Lake Villa, to respond to the letter.

The handwriting appeared to have come from an older man and even the Johanssens had trouble reading it, she said. Finally, the couple translated the letter in which the man asked Santa for some stamps.

But Santa finally answered the letter and sent various stamps from the United States.

The Spanish letter was answered by Carol Maplethorpe, who teaches at Antioch Community High School.

Tomaschik said most of the far-away letters probably came Antioch's way through O'Hare Airport, which along with several other areas of the state was contacted by Antioch postmaster Stan Lutas.

Tomaschik said she finds it amazing that Santa receives so many different types of letters. Some are happy, some are sad, but most of all they are honest, she said. It's like you're writing to someone but you're really not.

Tomaschik tucks away the letters that have made her laugh or even make a tear drop from her eye. Here are a few of the letters and some responses she has saved:

Dear Santa Claus:

I am 11 years old and my name is Laura. You probably know me. I know its yearly but I just wanted you to know that I believe in you. A lot of people don't but I do. I could tell you what I want for Christmas but you probably already know. But everybody makes wishes but I don't need to. I'm very happy just the way I live—a beautiful family, nice mom, grandma, uncle, sister and friends. I like my house and where I live and I'm glad God put me here. Oh and merry Christmas Santa. I believe. HO HO HO. Love Laura. And a merry Christmas to all and to all a good night.

Dear Laura:

The true meaning of Christmas is a feeling of joy, love and sharing. I am so very proud of you Laura. You truly have the spirit of Christmas. Not only are you blessed to belong in such a wonderful circle of family and friends, but they are blessed to have you. The love and warmth you project will always touch the lives of those around you. The happiness all of you will share this Christmas is the greatest gift of all. It will be my pleasure to visit your home on Christmas. Love, Santa.

Dear Santa:

My name is William, but you can call me Willy, if you want. I am 20 months old and am not big enough to write yet so I asked Dad to help me this year. I have been a good boy this year, Santa. I've only had a few colds, and I only get upset when Mommy or Dad leave me in my baby playpen cause I can walk you know. I sure with they would let me run around the apartment more. I get on Dad's nerves I guess cause I always turn on his stereo and the speakers full blast. I can dance Santa, and I'm pretty good, for a kid. I try to tell Dad "I love music," he must not understand toddler talk. I really want a radio of my own for Christmas, I want a soft foam baseball too please. That way Mommy won't get upset, cause the ball I have now knocks things off Mom's end tables, not to mention leaves knots on my half sister's head when I hit her with it. I have a half brother also Santa.

He's a pretty good guy, he don't live with us though. You might get him something nice for Christmas if you will. There will be cookies and milk set out for your Christmas eve night cause I'll be sound asleep. I hope you think I was good this year Santa. I will ask for more when I get older. Merry Christmas, Santa. Love Willy. P.S. Mom thinks I could use a potty training seat, whatever that is.

Dear Willy:

I have some very nice things for you and your half brother and sister. I know you were a good boy this year and I will peek in at you while you are sleeping. Keep practicing your dancing—music is a very important part of our life. They call it the "Universal Language"—you will "understand" that some day. First you must "understand" the potty training seat—I will see if I have one around and a foam ball. It is best for everyone, especially your half sister's head, poor thing. I am sure she understands 20-month-old boys by now though. I am also sending you the letter your father wrote for you to Santa when you were 20 months old. You must keep it safe and read it when you are 20 years old. The day may come when he gets on your nerves and you will need to learn the compassion he mastered in dealing with you. This is a big, rough lesson, but with a family like you have I know you will learn it easily. Have a good Christmas and I will see you soon. I am looking forward to the cookies and milk Christmas Eve. Stay the good boy that you are. Love, Santa.

Among the many honest letters to Santa, there were the snitches:

Dear Santa:

Please don't give anything to Mike Davis. He stole money from Stuart Alexander on December 3, 1985. (I almost forgot) please don't give none to his partner either. Love, Paul.

Dear Santa:

Jenny should get coal in her stocking. She has been a very naughty girl. My friend, Diane, wrote to you not that long ago. I wish I could get another puppy this year. I got one last year. His name is Copper... Love, Tina.

Other letters proved to be sad:

Dear Santa:

I would like for my husband to snap out of his depression. I would like for him to love me again, as he used to. I would like him to want to be with his wife and children and be happy. I would like for him to smile and not think life is such a bore. Please Santa give us him back. I want nothing more. Thank You, Leslie.

While yet other letters come from the desks of adults who somewhere in their hearts still believe:

Dear Santa:

From the desk of Al Waring. I would like the following for X-Mass:

- 1) health and financial security
- 2) same as above for all my family
- 3) happiness and peace of mind
- 4) ability to help those in need
- 5) good friends
- 6) a world of peace, free from want
- 7) a good dog
- 8) God bless us all, every one

Thanks, Al. P.S. Drop in for a quick snack if you have time.

Dear Santa:

For the past 20 years or so I have been hearing stories about the lucky kids who actually get what they want for Christmas. Actually, I have never sent you a list before, maybe that's why I have never gotten the stuff that I really wanted. You know, the unbelievable stuff! Well, I'm 26 years old now and I still believe that there is a real Santa Claus. Here's my list:

1. A winning six-number lotto ticket (six or 10 million dollars would be okay)

OR:

2. A new samsonite briefcase that has locks that actually work with $10,000 in $100 bills.

OR:

3. A lifetime pass with unlimited mileage on United Airlines.

OR:

4. A complete Nautilus equipment set.

OR:

5. A new job that pays $50,000 a year

OR:

6. New equipment and uniforms for my hockey team that hasn't won a game.

P.S. You won't be able to use the chimney since we don't have one. Just knock on the front door. Sincerely, Matthew R. Krueger.

Dear Matthew:

Thomas Carlyle once said, "Man is, properly speaking, based on hope; he has no other possession but hope." Matthew, you are filled with this great possession. How could you possibly want material objects when you have the greatest gift of all? You will receive the other things if you are a good boy. As Henry David Thoreau said, "Be not simply good--be good for something." I will use the front door this year but my hope is that you have chimney by next year. Love, Santa.

Extension Assn. Schedule Contest

The Lake County Homemakers Extension Assn., Avon Unit, will hold its next meeting at 9 a.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 4 at the home of Betty Gross. Co-hostesses Jean Kiek and Margaret Groves will help out at the luncheon.

The week of Feb. 16-22 starts off the "Homemakers Extension Association Week." Currently in its 54th year, the H.E.A. was formed in 1932. During the week-long celebration, the group will help promote its organization through a poster contest using the theme, "A Homemaker Is..."

Youngsters in grades seven through eight are encouraged to participate. Posters should be 11 by 22 inches in size, and can be done in a variety of mediums, including cut-outs, drawings, collages, paint, etc. Prizes of $25, first place, $15, second, and $10 will be awarded.

Names, addresses, phone numbers, grade, school, and the youngster's teacher should all be printed clearly on the back. For details, call the Extension Office at 223-8627.

Carriers Needed

Boys and girls interested in becoming carriers for the Antioch News-Reporter are urged to visit the newspaper office at 952 Main St. or call (312) 395-8700 for information.

Dining Guide

The good eating spots, whether you're in a hurry, seeking family dining or out for gourmet food for that "special occasion," are featured weekly in Lakeland Newspapers.

Carmel Sophs Set New School Record

Carmel High School's sophomore basketball team set a new school record for consecutive wins to start the season as they captured their own holiday tournament.

The Corsair underclassmen coached by Jay Hoffman captured three straight in tourney play to push their season record to 12 straight without a loss. The old record was 10 straight.

The Carmel sophs handily defeated Mt. Carmel 43-33 for the holiday crown in their best-played game of the season. With balanced scoring and solid defense, Hoffman's quintet led all the way in the title game after matching Mt. Carmel's opening basket.

Scott Stahoviak of Grayslake with 14 points and Jeff Zgonina of Long Grove with 12 paced Carmel which notched three quarters with 11 each and one of 10. LeRoy McCants of Mt. Carmel also had 14 points.

Behind 15 points from Stahoviak, most consistent soph scorer this season, Carmel defeated Weber of Chicago 47-41 in the second game of the tournament.

They opened with a 51-28 rout of Grayslake, Thursday, Dec. 26.

Against Weber, Carmel opened with 10 unanswered points, six coming from Stahoviak. They had a half-time lead of 24-11 against Weber.

On the second day, Grayslake came back to defeat Holy Trinity of Chicago 51-45 behind West's 26 points the most point production from any player in the tournament.

On the third day, St. Viator of Arlington Heights defeated Grayslake 48-32.

Other opening day scores were Weber 48, St. Viator and Mt. Carmel 52, Holy Trinity 27.

12-Hour Marathon

The Warren Twp. High School Student Council has scheduled a 12-hour marathon dance for Tuesday, Feb. 11, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. There will be no school on Feb. 12, in recognition of Lincoln's birthday, so the marathon dancers will have time to recuperate.

In other second day action Mt. Carmel defeated St. Viator 33-29. Other final day scores were St. Viator 48, Grayslake 32, and Weber 66, Holy Trinity 38.

In the title game, Hoffman started Stahoviak and Jeff Kalk of Zion at forwards, Mike King of Ingleside and Sean Keegan of Libertyville, guards, and Zgonina, center. Also seeing action were Mike Bowes of Mundelein, center, and Bob Schroeder of Ingleside, guard.

Acknowledging that his talent-laden team is off to a great start, Hoffman said the squad's over-all aim is to keep improving, playing one game at a time.

Whittier Makes All-Tournament

Carmel's Corsairs return to the East Suburban Catholic Conference basketball wars at 7:30 p.m., Friday, Jan. 3, with the knowledge that they can play with anyone when they maintain 32 minutes of pressure and intensity.

They proved this in the prestigious 16-team Kankakee Holiday Tournament where the Corsairs narrowly missed a fifth place finish led by senior guard Rod Whittier's all-tournament performance.

Coach Frank Belmont feels his reorganized team, 2-2 in the conference, is as ready as it ever will be to challenge for the title. A big test of how tournament experience will be put to use will be when St. Patrick's improved Shamrocks invade Mundelein Friday night.

The spirit in four games at Kankakee left Carmel with a 6-7 season record, including a heart-breaking double overtime loss to Deerfield in a pre-Christmas contest.

Except for several lapses, the outcome at Kankakee where Whittier poured through 80 points in four games, might have been different.

Whittier scored 22 points and his running mate at guard, senior Rodney Lambright of Waukegan, hit 21, as Carmel defeated the host school in the opening game, 70-60.

The Corsairs were pitted against Kankakee's 6-9, 350-pound center, James Coleman, who scored 29 points. Rob Graham, the Libertyville junior at center for Carmel, scored 15 points and took down 12 rebounds.

In the second game at Kankakee, Carmel let Loyola Academy pull away to a 13 point lead before regrouping. The Corsairs were able to take a small lead, but in the end fell 61-57 to the taller and more physical foes.

Playing their second game of the day Friday, Dec. 27, the Corsairs nipped Naperville 55-33, for another win against taller and bigger opposition.

In the game for fifth place, the Lake County team put on an all-out drive in the final minutes before losing to East Moline 59-56. East Moline devised a special defense to curb Whittier without success.

Sequoits Prepare For Trouble From Fenton

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Sequoits emerged from the Rockford Christmas Classic with a 2-2 tourney record, putting them in 11th place out of the 16 teams that competed.

Antioch Coach Don Zeman blames the lack of good shooting from the field and the fact that his boys got behind early in both games that they lost and were unable to catch up.

With a North Suburban Conference record of 3-2 and an overall record of 6-6, the Sequoits will host Fenton on Friday, Jan. 6.

"They're a scrappy and aggressive team, even though they're not big, so we expect them to give us trouble, they always have," said Zeman.

Matt Weber led the Sequoits to their first tourney win against Rockford Harlem, 48-40. Weber came alive in the second half, putting 12 on the boards and grabbing 12 rebounds.

Don Gunther led the scoring for Antioch, marking up 21.

The Sequoits bowed to Peoria Richmond, 61-45, and Thornridge, 72-52, in the next two games.

Dave Grindley led the Sequoit scoring with 17 and six rebounds against Peoria. "We did well under the circumstances since Peoria was the top-ranked team in the tournament," said Zeman, adding that Antioch couldn't stop Peoria's all state Randy Blair who scored 29 points.

Gunther and Don Keisgen scored 10 in the loss to Thornridge.

But the Sequoits ended the tourney on a winning note by leading all the way and taking Buffalo Grove, 59-45.

The Sequoits were ahead 16-12 at the end of the first quarter and their continuing lead allowed Antioch to play the game their way.

Zeman said that the balanced scoring was another key to the win, with Mike McGrain scoring 14; Webber, 13 with nine rebounds; Gunther, 12; and Grindley, 11. Pat Bruks was credited with seven important assists.

Grass Lake Activities End The 1985 Year

by ARDEEN HARRIS
(312) 395-2761

Well, I hope everyone had a great Christmas and looking forward to a wonderful new year in 1986! Happy New Year to all. The Christmas parties at Grass Lake School were very exciting and nice this year. A special treat was prepared for the second-graders by Irene Utinans and all the second grade room mothers thank her for the beautiful stockings which each child received. Everyone really appreciated them. Speaking of school, it will resume on Jan. 6. I know the kids will be really disappointed, but the mom's will probably need a breather.

Here's a final report on the Christmas Bazaar and Breakfast profits. The Bazaar made $2,437.63 and the Breakfast with Santa and Pictures made $508.05 with a grand total of $2,945.68. These are really great figures for a function which runs for one day, but includes many months of work.

Over the calf Grass Lake School stockings (white with blue and gold trim) are in stock at the school and will be sold to junior high students who need them as a part of their athletic team uniform. Sizes 8-11 and 9-15 can be purchased for $2.50 a pair. The slight profit made on these excellent quality only kind used and they were launched by hand atop Steitz's toboggan hill by John Steitz himself and his son.

Today's toboggan slide built in 1975 by John Steitz, Jr. is a wood chute, with a vertical drop of approximately 40 feet extending on to the lake. Each toboggan is controlled by an operator and the chute accommodates all types of toboggans. New lightweight, rugged plastic toboggans are for rent at the resort and are extremely versatile for all weather conditions. No snow is required for today's toboggan slide as the chute is iced and the newer toboggans allow for a fast fun ride in all weather conditions.

The 1985-86 Winter Toboggan Season opened Friday, Dec. 27 at 6 p.m. Hours are weekends; Friday, 6 p.m. until midnight, Saturday, noon until midnight, and Sunday, noon until 9 p.m. Rates are $5 per person and tickets are good for the entire day and night!

Toboggans rent for $1 per hour with a minimum charge of $2. Group outings are available by reservation weekdays only. Call (312) 395-4050 after Dec. 27. This landmark toboggan slide has been a popular, safe, and economical winter sport for the entire family, schools, and groups in Lake County for almost 10 years - located on the beautiful, scenic winter wonderland of the Chain of Lakes."

Have a safe and happy new year and remember to call with your news!

Grass Lake News

At least the snow has kept them busy as well as all their new Christmas presents. Here's a reminder from Camp Crayola, (pre-school at the Scout House in Antioch), the new session will begin on Jan. 6 for the Monday-Wednesday class, and on Jan. 7 for the Tuesday-Thursday class. Glenda Tomaschlik and her staff wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Be sure to give her a call at (312) 395-1000 if you are interested in registering for Camp Crayola - ages 3-5. The sessions run from 9 a.m. until noon.

The Grass Lake Boy Scout Pack night held in December was really enjoyable for everyone when the talented Tom Hubbard, a magician, who displayed his mystifying tricks for the group. The Brownies and Girl Scouts from the Grass Lake area were also invited by the pack. They also decorated a Christmas tree with homemade ornaments and drew the names for the Turkey give-away. The pack would like to thank everyone who participated in the turkey give-away. There were 10 lucky winners and they have been notified. Sorry if you didn't win, but the money went to a good cause. I know I wasn't called, but we still enjoyed turkey on Christmas eve, and a few days later. A very special event happened on this Pack Night, Brad Priller received his Wolf Badge. He is the first boy this year to receive it, and he did it almost three months before the work had to be done, congratulations, Brad!

Belated birthday wishes to Dorothy Hart who celebrated her day on Dec. 18. Mike Campbell will be celebrating his day on Jan. 1. Carl Campbell will be celebrating his day on Jan. 1. They are the famous twins of the eighth grade at Grass Lake School. Lorrie Christoupolus will have another birthday on Jan. 6, she's not telling her age this year. Happy Birthday to you all!

Jerry and Dorothy Hart celebrated their wedding anniversary on Dec. 17. They really had a busy week with a birthday and anniversary all in one week. Happy anniversary to you both.

socks will go back into the uniform fund established by the PTO. With girls basketball season in the wings, it will be nice to see all the girls wearing the same kind of socks at the games.

Make a note, that if your child missed having his/her school picture taken, the school photographer will be present at 9 a.m., Tuesday, Jan. 14 to take photographs of those students who were absent.

The Grass Lake School newsletter has made a special commendation to Mr. Clark's seventh grade homeroom who coordinated the Thanksgiving Food Drive; and to the entire student body and parents and teachers for contributions of food and money. The proceeds of the drive were gratefully accepted by the Antioch Community Food Pantry.

The Grass Lake junior high has planned their first ski trip of the season. It is scheduled for Jan. 17 and will be at Alpine Valley Resort in East Troy, Wis. Registration forms giving the cost factors and times of departure and arrival will be issued to the students during the week of Jan. 6. There are only a few more boy's basketball games left to the season. January 7, they will be playing Newport at home and on Jan. 9 they will be playing Millburn (there). The next Grass Lake School Board meeting will be held on Jan. 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the school. There will be a PTO meeting held on Jan. 15 at 7:30 p.m.

The following was received in my mail for your information: "Steitz's Resort, located three miles south of Antioch on Grass Lake Road is a well known landmark of the Antioch area since 1938. Although primarily established as a boating and fishing resort, Steitz's Resort has a widely acclaimed reputation for establishing and maintaining the oldest and longest running toboggan slide in Lake County. The original slide was built by John Steitz Sr. in 1938. It was a dirt chute, with a vertical drop of 30 feet gliding its customers rapidly on the surface of Bluff Lake. Heavy wooden toboggans were the

Weight Losers Class To Begin

Weight Losers International Inc. will offer classes on Thursdays at 10 a.m. beginning Jan. 9 at the United Methodist Church of Antioch.

Participants will learn about eating right and receiving the correct balance of nutrients.

Weight Losers' menu selection is based on the prudent diet of the late Norman Joliffe who was a heart and diabetic specialist. He organized the first obesity clinic in New York City and was able to prove that a low salt, low fat and low sugar eating program could prevent heart attacks in young men and others.

The program trains people to use the six food exchanges and learn proper portion sizes. The company is licensed to do business in Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota and North Dakota.

Sharon Meyers, of Antioch, has recently become a licensee of Weight Losers International Inc. She also is a successful weight loss student and is now certified to teach classes in Lake County.

She believes it is impossible to encourage others unless one has had a weight problem. Meyers said, "The Weight Losers program of eight different menus and the class instructions have encouraged me and I find it most rewarding when I know that what I will be teaching will encourage others as well."

For more information call Meyers at (312) 395-0889.

Schools To Meet

A special meeting of the Boards of Education of Antioch Community High School, Dist. 117; Antioch Community Consolidated Grade School Dist. 34; Emmons Grade School Dist. 33; Grass Lake School Dist. 36; and Lake Villa Community Consolidated Grade

School Dist. 41, will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 8, at 7 p.m. in the Commons of Antioch Community High School Dist. 117.

The purpose of the meeting is an update on the Lake County School Dist. Reorganization Committee.

Completes Training

Army Private Jeffery S. Gibson, son of Janet Robare and stepson of Larry Robare of 350 Maplewood Dr., Antioch, has completed one station unit training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. Completion of this course qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect-fire crewman.

Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

New Directors

Association Elects Directors

Lake County Fair Assn. members attending the annual meeting elected three directors to three-year terms. They are: David Bonner of Millburn, Richard Lencioni of Wadsworth and John McNeill of Antioch.

Bonner, a school business manager, is a new member of the board of directors, replacing Fred Lenzen, who did not run for re-election.

At an organization meeting following the election of directors, the following officers were elected: Ron Weidner, Round Lake, president; Ray Flood, Libertyville, vice president; Walter Krumrey, Grayslake, secretary and John McNeill, treasurer.

Attorneys Seek To Suppress Statements In Murder Case

By SUSAN MONTGOMERY

The attorneys for John Wayne Chorba, the suspect charged with the murder of a Grayslake dental assistant have filed a motion seeking to suppress statements that Chorba allegedly made following his arrest, according to Lake County Assistant State's Atty. Matthew Chancey.

Representing Chorba, Lake County Public Defender Joan Pantisios and Valerie Czeckowski have filed a second motion in an effort to compel the state to decide whether it will seek the death penalty in the case.

Chorba was scheduled to appear before Lake County Circuit Judge Jack Hoogasian in a pre-trial hearing on Dec. 23.

Chorba has been indicted by a Lake County grand jury on two counts of murder, two counts of residential burglary and eight counts of aggravated criminal sexual assault in the Oct. 27 slaying of 23-year old Kathryn Kretschmer.

Kretschmer's body was found in her apartment by a fellow employee who was concerned when she did not show up for work the next morning. She had been strangled and her throat had been slashed.

She lived in an apartment across the hall from Chorba above a True Value hardware store in downtown Grayslake.

Chorba is being held without bond in the Lake County jail. A trial date has been scheduled for Jan. 13.

Libertyville Dominates Dist. 5 GOP Aspirants

Two veteran politicians will be pitted against each other in a field of five Republicans seeking tow Lake County Board nominations in the March primary for Dist. 5, which includes Warren, Libertyville and Vernon townships.

Final date for withdrawal was Monday, Dec. 23.

Sparks are expected to fly between incumbent Dist. 5 Rep. Robert W. Depke of Warren Township and F.T. "Mike" Graham of Libertyville.

The Democrats will not field a candidate in the primary.

Graham, Libertyville Township supervisor and a former County Board member, will team with Carol Calabresa, a Libertyville town trustee.

Another Libertyville candidate is Eugene E. "Gene" Martin, retired banker, who presently is on the board through appointment.

Rounding out the GOP field is Jerome J. Brunette, a late filer, also of Libertyville.

Videotapes Enhance Course

Students in the College of Lake County's Philosophy of Religion course this spring will be able to experience, through videotape, personal travel to 16 spiritual communities in the USA and Canada.

CLC instructor Dr. Stephen Infantino, of Libertyville, has just returned from a college sabbatical during which he spent three months interviewing and videotaping in American communities connected with the five major world religions.

The sabbatical project involved traveling over 10,000 miles from the Rockies to the Atlantic, from Toronto to Texas and Georgia. Portions of videotaped interviews and worship services, along with local speakers and segments of the BBC's Long Search series will be used as resources for the course.

Students interested in investigating Hinduism, Buddhism, Judaism, Christianity, Islam and Secular Humanism may enroll in this three credit course.

Study Explores Growth

How does Illinois compare to other states with respect to economic growth, jobs and tax climate? What kind of conclusions can be drawn from such comparisons?

These questions are being asked with increasing frequency in the wake of Saturn Corporation's decision to locate in Tennessee, and Diamond-Star Corporation's demand for more than $200 million in subsidies in exchange for locating in Illinois. Some answers may be suggested in a study recently released by the Chicago-based Heartland Institute.

According to the study, Illinois' growth rate, as measured by gross state product, personal income levels, and employment figures, lags far behind that of the rest of the nation.

Between 1975 and 1983, for example, average personal income in Illinois fell from the third highest in the nation to the twelfth highest. During that same period, the number of unemployed in the state rose 78 percent, from 360,000 to 640,000.

In searching for an explanation for this dismal economic record, Hodge and Bast reason that "Illinois is blessed with a central location, plentiful water, a highly skilled work force, and substantial infrastructure investment...Since Illinois retains the many attributes that once made it an economic powerhouse, we must look at what has changed to find the source of our economic decline. What changed was Illinois' tax climate."

The Heartland study lets the numbers speak for themselves. The authors present eight charts that rank states according to their various tax rates, labor policies and spending priorities.

In four of the eight charts, Illinois ranks among the eight worst states in the nation. For example, 46 states have lower maximum workers' compensation payments, and 42 states have lower public utility taxes than Illinois.

Since tax dollars spent on welfare programs cannot be used to provide public services used by business, the Heartland study ranks states by their per capita welfare spending. Thirty-eight states spend less per capita on welfare than Illinois.

Because "a high level of government debt may reveal fiscal irresponsibility or forecast future tax increases required to service the debt," the Heartland study also ranks states by their per capita local and state debt. Thirty-two states have lower debt per capita levels than Illinois.

The best ranking that Illinois can muster on the factors selected by the Heartland study is a mediocre 22 for corporate income taxes. As if to spoil even this small victory, the authors point out that Illinois uses the unitary method of calculating corporate tax liabilities, a method that has been strongly condemned by many businesses.

Hodge and Bast stop short of claiming they have found the source of Illinois' woes, but the direction they point to is clear: "The reasons for Illinois' economic stagnation may be complex, and we do not pretend to have identified all the factors that account for it. Nevertheless, the overall picture of Illinois' poor business climate cannot be ignored. Taxes matter, and taxes in Illinois tend to be higher than those of many states that compete with us for new business."

Historical Society To Gather

The Grayslake Historical Society will meet at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 8 in the Woodview School.

This meeting will be a workshop to place old newspapers in mylar, a preservative.

Anyone who would like to lend a hand is invited to help.

For information, call Mary McDonald at 223-5334.

Ready-Made Issue: Bossism

One of the beauties of America's two-party political system is that the ins, no matter how strong they appear, are always giving the outs ready-made issues around which to rally or reasons to maintain the faith. We see that all the time on the national level in the eternal Republican vs. Democrat battle for control of the White House and Congress. The same thing happens on the local level in the campaigns every two years for county offices.

Historically, the GOP has dominated Lake County politics to the extent that there is wonderment whether there is, indeed, the existence of two parties. We admit to falling prey to this observation from time to time, usually following the counting of votes in November. By the time the next primary campaign rolls around, however, there usually is evidence that the Democrats are alive and kicking, ready to do battle. And so it is in 1986 as the March primary campaign swings into action.

True to past history, it is the Republicans themselves who are doing as much as anyone to keep Lake County Democrats, as we mentioned, alive and kicking. The Democrats have managed to put together a ticket devoid of primary competition, which means that they will be watching and learning the next few months. Indications are that they are fairly itching at what they expect to learn about the propensities for some GOP leaders to control party affairs and hand pick candidates. The Democrats know they are being handed a ready made issue: bossism. Look for them to exploit this issue to the fullest.

The question of bossism isn't one of origination by the county GOP organization itself as much as it is being manufactured by a Republican office holder, Sheriff Robert "Mickey" Babcox, who besides running the sheriff's office, has found it necessary to personally fill the vacancy he left as coroner, hand pick and advance the cause of a candidate for the nomination for county clerk, gather around him a group of ambitious younger Republican office holders to serve as their counselor and now, through his emissaries, try to knock out a challenger to his renomination before the voters have their say in the primary.

By exerting his influence in a variety of areas beyond the purview of his office, Sheriff Babcox has become a controversial figure. Friends and supporters undoubtedly look upon this aggressive influence as leadership. The sheriff's detractors and his opponents in the next election, however, are sure to call it for what it really is: bossism.

Sheriff Babcox is running an excellent law enforcement agency. It is a shame that he is politicizing a good record. Does he want the voters to remember him only as Sheriff Richard J. Babcox?

Neighbor Vs. Neighbor

When it comes to public controversy, even the darkest pessimist usually can find a speck of benefit for the public good. Unfortunately, such was not the case in the controversy that waged most of last fall in Lake Villa Township over construction of a new rescue squad building.

With the dawn of a new year, it can be hoped that the whole sorry mess has been put away. While the debate ensued, the combatants included two municipalities (Lindenhurst and Lake Villa), the township, the fire district and the rescue squad. We frankly lost tabs of the lawsuits and counter suits. There's a stack of legal bills, though, approximately $23,000, with a few more to be received.

Impartial observers agree that all the hassling resulted in no change in plans for locating the rescue squad building. News Editor Gloria Davis, who followed the protracted wrangling for Lakeland Newspapers, probably put it best when she wrote that the "people of Lake Villa Township will be paying to sue themselves." How could such an entanglement occur?

From our vantage point, no faction stands blameless. Newcomers forgot that oldtimers worked hard to get where the community stands today. Oldtimers forgot that public business is public. A number of elected officials forgot that taking public criticism goes with the job. A lot of "shouters" forgot that everyone loses when public debate is turned into personal attack. The rescue squad building battle never should have occurred. Neighbor vs. neighbor never gains. Hopefully, a painful lesson was learned.

Editor's Viewpoint

Campbell's Future Could Be Shaped Next 12 Months

by BILL SCHROEDER

"Very much alive."

That's the characterization of Mayor George Scherer of Round Lake Park of the long-standing plans for upgrading Campbell Airport from a basically recreation-private facility to commercial capabilities.

With the citizens of McHenry County turning thumbs down to establishment of any kind of a commercial airport, the 200-plus acre facility located between Grayslake and the Round Lake area takes on greater strategic importance than ever.

Mayor Scherer has been a strong advocate for development of Campbell's commercial potential for more than five years, viewing a growing airport as both a benefit to Round Lake Park and a catalyst for attracting industry and jobs for the entire west Lake County and mid-county areas.

Encouraged by the positive findings of a local airport committee, Round Lake Park councilmen commissioned a comprehensive study from Burke & Associates, nationally known airport planners.

Besides documenting the need for expanded air facilities, Burke developed a 10-year plan for the federal government as a requirement for consideration for developmental grants. Where the need can be demonstrated, Uncle Sam furnishes approximately 90 percent funding for airport development.

"That's where things stand now," reported Mayor Scherer. "We're basically waiting on how the federal government views Campbell Airport."

Scherer feels that Round Lake Park is the appropriate authority to guide Campbell's development and provide necessary zoning controls regarding adjacent population density, building height and noise pollution controls. The village bounds Campbell on three sides now.

"I'm looking for positive activity in 1986," Mayor Scherer summed up.

BASIC PROGRAM—Mike Graham, irrepressible open space advocate, has launched his bid to return to the Lake County Board with a simple campaign premise: keep the lid on growth.

Graham, a Republican running in the mid-county Dist. 5, says growth will be the issue in the 1986 elections. "Everything is a spin-off of growth," is the way he puts it. The Libertyville township supervisor believes that the interest in controlling growth evidenced Libertyville's successful open space referendum earlier this fall will "carry through" in the primary where he is one of five GOP candidates seeking a nomination.

Never known as a shrinking violet, Mike already has labeled one of the candidates.

Jerome Brunette, as a "tool" of Graham's arch rival, Supervisor Robert "Bob" Depke of Warren Township. "Jerry is the kind of candidate you like to run against," declared Graham.

Graham, by the way, has worked out a formula to illustrate the heavy burden placed on the individual taxpayer by developments. "Figure a two to one cost for providing services over cost of public purchase of the land. The public is getting smart. People know they pay either way. Instead of buying schools, sewers and streets, they know that it's cheaper to buy the land," Graham avows.

SAY IT ISN'T SO—Our neighborhood automobile service operator, Jerry "Swede" Anderson, has done it! He sold his business. What to do now that Swede isn't around to diagnose engine trouble and keep cars going?

Anderson was the answer to a motorist's dream. He simply was fast and good at keeping cars running. And his rates were reasonable. If Swede had been a surgeon, there wouldn't have been anything like "elective surgery." He only operated when the patient needed help.

Swede represented a disappearing breed of craftsman who took great pride in making their customers happy. In a way, Swede was a true "happiness" person. There is no such thing as a happy motorist when the car won't run.

Hospital Helps Families Prepare

Families who are expecting a new baby can help older children prepare for the new arrival by enrolling them in the sibling class being introduced at Condell Memorial Hospital, a subsidiary of The Medical Center of Lake County, in Libertyville.

Designed for children age 2½ to nine years old, the first class of this new program will be held from 3 to 5 p.m., Sunday, Jan. 19, at the hospital.

There is no fee for the class but registration is required. Contact the public relations/marketing department at (312) 362-2900, ext. 5275, to register your children.

The sibling class will cover many aspects of the newborn and explain how the children can help with the new baby. The children will have the opportunity to practice holding, diapering and feeding a newborn-sized doll. They'll even get to taste baby formula.

A trip to The New Life Center will be included. Each child will receive a Big Brother/Big Sister T-shirt and a coloring book.

Other sibling Classes will be held Sunday, April 27; Sunday, July 20; and Sunday, Oct. 19.

Volunteers Wanted

Parental Stress Services, a child-abuse prevention agency, will train volunteers Jan. 25 and Feb. 1, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., at 59 E. Van Buren St., Room 1618, Chicago.

Volunteers are needed from all areas of Chicago and the suburbs to answer hotline calls forwarded to their homes and to work with distressed parents in local parenting support groups.

To volunteer, call Parental Stress Services at (312) 427-1161.

Volunteers will be trained in the cycle of child abuse, child sexual abuse, parenting skills and listening skills. Experience in a related field is helpful but not required.

Parental Stress Services responds to about 400 hotline calls per month and sponsors 25 parenting support groups. All services are provided free of charge by more than 90 trained volunteers.

It's That Time Of Year- Try The Miracle Diet!

This is not a diet for whimps. My wife went on it twice during a career of dieting that spans almost three decades. She lost 25 pounds the first time; 15 pounds the next go-round.

It's simply a fruit and vegetable diet that allows beef twice a week, but no salt. It requires much water and vitamins, but only decaffeinated coffee or tea.

Day One: All fruits except bananas, especially melons; unsweetened fruit juices.

Day Two: All vegetables, fresh, raw or cooked; vegetable juices. Leafy greens best, but no dried beans, peas or corn. Large baked potato with butter.

Day Three: Fruits and vegetables, but no potatoes; fruit or vegetable juices.

Day Four: Bananas and skim milk; Miracle Soup (we'll go into that later).

Day Five: 10 to 12 ounces beef; as much tomatoes as you can stomach. Drink eight glasses of water.

Day Six: Eat your fill of beef and vegetables, but no potatoes; vegetable juices.

Day Seven: Brown rice, unsweetened fruit juices and vegetables.

When I tasted the first batch of Miracle Soup, which can be eaten any time, I told Anita how it got its name: "It's a miracle if you can eat one bowl."

The secret: seasoning. Experiment. Try a little chili powder or basil or black pepper. Here's our version:

Doctored Miracle Soup

4 cups water
1 envelope onion soup mix
2 tomatoes
4 onions
1 stalk celery
2 green peppers
3/3 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon each, garlic powder, paprika and cumin
1 can (14 1/2 oz.) whole tomatoes
Several sprigs cilantro or dill
1 head cabbage

Pilot Light GREG MELIKOV

In large pot, heat water to almost boiling; add soup mix. In blender or food processor, puree tomatoes, two onions, several celery ribs, 1/2 green pepper and add to pot with mustard, garlic powder, paprika, cumin, canned tomatoes, cilantro or dill. Cut cabbage and rest of onions, celery and green pepper in small pieces and add. Reduce heat to simmer, cover and cook one hour, adding more water if desired to make more soupy. Serves a crowd or lasts a week.

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Vandervest Obenauf/Vandervest

Patricia Obenauf, daughter of Richard and Marilyn Obenauf, Ingleside, and Mark Vandervest, son of Janet Vandervest, were joined in marriage at 3 p.m., Oct. 26, at St. Bede Church, Ingleside, by Father John Hoffman.

The bride was given away by her father during the double-ring ceremony.

The maid of honor was Marie Diedrich, friend of the bride and groom. Bridesmaids were Sue Obenauf, the bride's cousin; Linda Koop, the bride's friend; Dana Vandervest, the groom's sister and Laura (Gary) Pixley, the bride's friend.

Best man was Kevin Benton, friend of the bride and groom. Groomsmen were Mike Obenauf, the bride's brother; Karl Heilgeist, Carl Carlson and Jim Valenziano, all friends of the groom.

Ushers were Jim Obenauf, brother of the bride and Troy Vandervest, brother of the groom.

Cheri Pixley was flower girl and Shane Abbott, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. A reception at Maravella's followed the ceremony.

After a honeymoon trip to Hawaii, the couple will make their home in Lake Villa. The bride is a 1980 graduate of Grant Community High School and a 1983 graduate of the College of Lake County (CLC). She is employed by Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan.

The groom is a 1978 graduate of Grant Community High School and a 1983 graduate of CLC.

Mr. and Mrs. Kevin McCrory

Angel Fontanez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luis Fontanez, Round Lake, and Kevin D. McCrory, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McCrory, Grayslake, were joined in marriage at 2 p.m., Nov. 2 at the United Methodist Church of Salem by Rev. Bartlett.

The bride was given away by her parents during the double ring ceremony.

Diana Fontanez, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

The groom's best friend, Tom Cullen was best man.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nootbaar, uncle and aunt of the bride.

The couple will reside in Round Lake.

The bride will graduate from the College of Lake County (CLC) in May, 1986. She is employed by the college.

The groom attended Grayslake High School. He is employed as cross country coach for CLC.

Engagement

Anne Montrimas and Michael Koutney

Montrimas-Koutney

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Montrimas of Lindenhurst, announce the engagement of their daughter, Anne Marie Montrimas, to Michael Alan Koutney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart C. Koutney of Channel Lake.

The couple will be married in St. Bartholomew's Church, Waukegan, in mid-February.

The couple plans to reside in Antioch.

Center Sponsors Session

At one time or another, many of us have tried to lose that extra weight, but somehow gained it all back when we went "off the diet."

At Victory Health Outreach Center in Lake Villa, a program called D.I.E.T. eX (Developing Intelligent Eating Techniques and Exercise) will begin Jan. 7 for 12 weeks.

This program is designed for people who are overweight and who need exercise at a slower pace.

D.I.E.T. eX is unique in its emphasis on total fitness and wellness. All classes, both nutrition and exercise, will be taught by health care professionals.

Cathy Janczak, a registered dietitian affiliated with Victory

Memorial Hospital, will lead the class each Tuesday night with nutritional information and support.

Ms. Janczak earned her Bachelor of Science degree in Medical Dietetics from Ohio State University. She has worked as a clinical dietitian at Victory Memorial Hospital for 1 1/2 years.

"An individual's special needs will be stressed in the class. I'll take a diet history for each participant and write an individual diet plan to fit his or her lifestyle," she said.

Ms. Janczak will include the following topics in her weekly presentations: "Changing Styles and Behavior/Snacking Tips;" "Eating Out;" "Company's Coming!;" "Conquer That Sweet Tooth;" and "How To Read Those Labels."

After nutrition class on Tuesday, and again on Thursday, the exercise portion will be taught by Feelin' Fit instructor, Nancy "J.C." Johnson.

She will teach participants simple calisthenic moves to music. Emphasis will be placed on developing full range of motion of the joints, conditioning, and slowly building endurance to help burn calories. The individual will be instructed to do the exercises at his or her own pace.

Cost of the class is varied, depending on individual specific needs. For details about cost or to register, call Victory Health Outreach Center at (312) 356-5900 or Feelin' Fit at (312) 356-9641.

Assn. To Sponsor Poster Contest

The Lake County Homemakers Extension Assn. (HEA) is sponsoring a poster contest as part of the state-wide program to celebrate Homemakers Extension Assn. Week, Feb. 16-22.

The aim for the homemaker and also for this contest to follow is: To have the home economically sound, mechanically convenient, physically healthful, morally wholesome, mentally stimulating, artistically satisfying, socially responsible, spiritually inspiring, founded upon mutual affection and respect.

Poster contest rules include: Grades 7 and 8 in Lake County; Theme: A Homemaker is...; Size: 14" x 22". May be any media-paint, crayola, ink, cutouts, collage, etc. Deadline: February 7, 1986. Back of poster must have this information or will be disqualified: Name: Address: Telephone number: Grade: School: Teacher. Bring or send to Cooperative Extension Service, 33020 N. Hwy. 45, Grayslake, IL 60030.

Square Dance

The Bouys and Belles Square Dance Club will hold a 14th Anniversary Square Dance from 8:30 to 11 p.m., Friday, Jan. 3 at Great Lakes Community Center, Great Lakes, Ill. Bob Wilson will call, and Al Hallgren will have the round dancing. There will be a round workshop 8 to 8:30 p.m. All modern western square dancers in the area are invited. The center is located at Greenbay and Buckley Rds.

Buzbee Enlists

Dean R. Buzbee, of Round Lake, has enlisted in the Active Army. Buzbee, son of Junior Ray and Toni Sue Buzbee, is a 1984 graduate of Round Lake Senior High School. He was enlisted by Staff Sergeant Charles Hubach of the Round Lake Beach Army Recruiting Station.

Canada Offers Great Opportunity For Skiers

For travelers, time changes can be very confusing. If you have trouble adjusting your new watch, maybe carrying the old stem winder can be simpler.

When it's noon in New York, it's 1 p.m. in Newfoundland, 11 a.m. in Chicago, 10 a.m. in Salt Lake City, 9 a.m. in Los Angeles and 7 a.m. in Hawaii.

Last season Chicagoland hosted eight public shows which charged admission and featured travel information. Three of those shows were at Arlington Park Expo Center, which has now fallen to fire. Rebuilding still is a matter of conjecture.

One of the smaller shows, The All-Canada Show, has made its decision. That show, which also visits St. Louis, Indianapolis, Milwaukee, Madison and Green Bay, will be held at the Arlington Park Hilton in Arlington Heights, a quarter mile from the fire scene. It will open Wednesday, Jan. 8, 1986 and run thru Sunday, Jan. 12. That's one solution.

We hear the Midwest RV Show may go to O'Hare Expo Center, but apparently the Midwest Boat Show has not as yet made arrangements for a new time and place. There is no doubt that suburban exposition centers have great value.

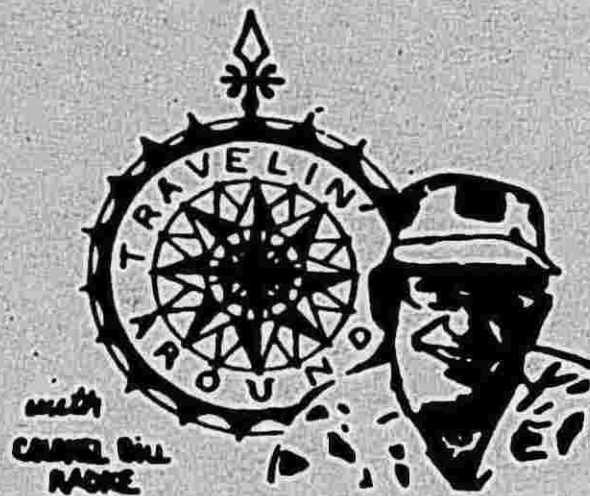

Chicago's McCormick Place is staggering with problems in its expansion plans. It would be nice to see a new and better suburban exposition center rise from the ashes of the fire at Arlington Park.

Travel agents book about two-thirds of all domestic flights. Beginning in late December, they must inform purchasers of any changes in carriers.

In the past, reservations on one major airline did not always continue throughout the trip. Passengers were occasionally surprised when switched to other and sometimes smaller airlines.

As of Dec. 23, booking airlines must inform the customer in advance of any change which might involve a different carrier.

If it's desirable to inform someone of your safe arrival at a destination, like "Hi, Mom, I'm here." Such telephone messages can be made from several airports, including LaGuardia, San Francisco and Boston.

For 50 cents, a call may be placed anywhere in the U.S., Puerto Rico or Virgin Islands over specially marked green and white phones. After 30 seconds, the call is automatically disconnected.

For Travelers, Time Changes Are Confusing

Canada is much in the minds of skiers these days and offers an extensive opportunity for ski trips to areas directly above our midwest, or to the Canadian east and west coasts.

Air Canada will work out plans to get travelers anywhere and back, even for the ultimate ski trip experience...helicopter skiing. Participants can ski remote wilderness locations on unbroken snow and in every conceivable type of terrain.

Such packages begin at about $1,100. Remember, that's 35 percent less than Canadians pay, based on favorable dollar exchange rates.

Quebec Province offers Skiing a la Française...those trips allow samples of sophisticated world class ski resorts in the Laurentians, or the quieter family-style atmosphere of Charlevoix, L'Ange-de-la-Neige and others.

Visitors enjoy starlit walks on cobblestone streets two centuries old. Other pleasures may be visits to lively bistros and cafes. Perhaps the multi-course specialties of a lingering gourmet dinner, pre-set with five varisized wine glasses, is a choice. These 2-3 hour extravaganzas also include a mid meal goblet of soda water to temper the variety.

Terminate the evening with a jingling horse drawn sleigh ride on winding trails and across moonlit, frozen lakes. For snow conditions in Quebec, call 1-800-443-7000, during 9-5 office hours. Quebec City's 10-day winter carnival is celebrated Feb. 6-16 and attracts an international visitor audience, including skiers.

Planning a vacation trip for the family can be aided by displays at the five day Chicago Boat, Sports and RV Show, opening at McCormick Place on Wed, Jan 12. Seventy six vacation resorts and outdoor destinations will be on hand to counsel with trip planners.

They offer suggestions as to locations, activities and living facilities. Many have "Show Special" rates which are true savings and very convenient for long range planners.

Also, aimed at boating, RVs and the outdoors, 750 water-craft may be examined along with 400 recreation vehicles and a variety of fishing tackle and related water sport equipment.

The state of Ohio has taken a closer look at tourist income trade and has unveiled a widespread promotion called "Wintersuite." Marilyn Tomase, tourism director, described a 30-second TV spot featuring Henry Mancini, renowned musician and a native Ohioan.

Ohio's Wintersuite getaway packages offers discounts on accommodations and dining. A toll free call to 1-800-BUCKEYE will get a program sent to the requested address. "This campaign," Tomasi said, "is part of a continuing effort to minimize the export of Ohio travel dollars and create in-state economic impact."

It's part of a massive tourism budget increase designed to stimulate Ohio business by attracting new visitors.

To Hold Open House

An orientation and open house for adult returning students is planned for Wednesday, Jan. 8 from 6-8 p.m., in the McHenry County College lounge.

Coffee will be served and a chance to learn more about the college's programs, services and facilities will be available.

A majority of MCC's students are adults who have been out of school for a number of years. The MCC Re-Entry Program, which is sponsoring the orientation and open house, offers activities and services to aid these returning students.

There is no charge for participation, but if anyone is planning on attending the event, please call the MCC Re-Entry Program at (815) 455-3700, ext. 334, so that a space can be reserved.

Annual Navy Drive Benefits 345 Families

Four trips by a Navy 2 1/2-ton truck were required to deliver nearly 350 baskets of food collected at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center for holiday giving.

The Naval Training Center complex is made up of more than 30 separate commands and activities, and most participated in the food collection effort.

The Apprentice Training Dept. at Recruit Training Command, however, deserves special mention, having provided 150 food baskets, or nearly half of the total effort.

Each box of food costs an average of $25-$30 and included a turkey or canned ham, an assortment of vegetables and many other items in sufficient quantity to provide a huge Christmas dinner for a family of six. Some activities added toys in addition to the food items.

"Some of these boxes were huge," said one of the volunteers who was delivering the food. The lightest boxes weighed 35 pounds and some of the heavier ones were at least 70 pounds.

Hospital Corps School contributed approximately 45 boxes and the Naval Dental Clinic chipped in with an equal number. The Public Works Center donated fourteen large boxes, and the Reserve Readiness Command and the Navy Exchange added about half a dozen each.

The Naval Data Automation Facility, one of the smaller activities at Great Lakes, contributed food for three families, but each family received three large boxes, or about 100 pounds of food items.

Many other commands and activities contributed for one or two families each.

Fourteen of the food baskets went to the Navy's own Navy Relief Society to benefit Navy families. The Christmas Basket Club of North Chicago received 25, as did the Knights of St. John of Waukegan. One hundred and seventeen baskets went to the Salvation Army and 189 to Catholic Charities.

The total contribution effort netted approximately nine tons of food worth an estimated $10,000.

Victory To Sponsor Course

Beginning Wednesday, Jan. 8, from 10-11 a.m., Victory Health Outreach Center, 121 E. Grand Ave., Lake Villa, will sponsor a six part program called "Eating Fit."

The series stresses the concept of dealing with individual problems in weight loss. Individuality affords better compliance and, therefore, better control.

Participants will learn to pinpoint their major behavior or social problems associated with losing weight and/or improving overall nutrition. Topics discussed will include: food groups, calories, vitamins and minerals, conquering a sweet tooth, how to cope with diets, and positive changes for the body's better.

Cathy Janczak, a clinical dietician at Victory Memorial Hospital, earned her bachelor of science degree in medical dietetics at Ohio State University. She also is the instructor for Victory Health Outreach Center's D.I.E.T.E.X program.

Scouts Recognized For Outstanding Services

Maravala's in Ingleside was the scene of Lakes Dist. - Northeast Illinois Council, Boy Scouts of America annual dinner dance.

It is at this dinner that area scouters are recognized for their service to scouting in the area.

Lakes Dist. took part in many events such as Klondike Derby, Snow A Ree First Aid-Meet, Camporees and Encampment just to name a few.

There were seven Scouts who earned the rank of Eagle, six from Wauconda and two from Fox Lake area.

Five Packs supported Tiger Cub Units: Pack 84-Lindenhurst, Pack 90-Wauconda, Pack 175-Round Lake, Pack 199-Round Lake and Pack 290-Wauconda.

Summertime awards went to Pack 83, Fox Lake; Pack 88, Lake Villa; Pack 90, Wauconda; Pack 179 Ingleside; Pack 190 Antioch; Pack 191, Lindenhurst; and Pack 290, Wauconda.

Honor Unit Recognition was given to nine Packs and 12 Troops.

Troop 92-Antioch was presented with the Tom C. Clark Award for performing service to a state park.

Special Awards were given to the following people of the area. Den Leader of the year went to Lisa Corelli, she is Den Leader and Den Leader Coach for Pack 90 Wauconda.

Cubmaster of the Year was presented to Dixon

Brandt of Lake Villa. Dixon is Cubmaster for Pack 88, Lake Villa, and Training Chairman for the district.

Scoutmaster of the Year went to Fred J. Becker. He is the scoutmaster for Troop 90, Wauconda. He has served the scouting program for over 20 years, serving Troop 90 for 11 years.

The Awards of Merit were presented to Ruth LaChance from Lake Villa. Ruth is committee chairman for Troop 184. She has served many years during the summer at MaKaJaWan Summer camp as the nurse. Ruth is head surgical nurse at Lake Forest Hospital.

Victory Outreach Center Schedules Childbirth Classes

Victory Health Outreach Center in Lake Villa, in cooperation with Victory Memorial Hospital, announces "The Childbearing Year," a new series of prepared childbirth education classes. "The Childbearing Year" consists of three series of classes focusing respectively on early pregnancy, childbirth preparation, and post-partum adjustment.

In the three class session, early pregnancy series "Great Expectations," couples are helped to understand the physical, emotional and hormonal changes of pregnancy as well as the growth and development of their baby.

The next series called "Childbirth With Joy," consists of six class sessions which prepare for the actual birth event.

Finally, the "Post-partum Experience" is a four class series designed as an informative, but informal support group for new mothers.

"The Childbearing Year" was developed by Rebecca Hamilton Kammann, a certified educator and professional member of the International Childbirth Education Assn. Kammann has had much experience teaching a variety of childbirth and parenting classes both in the Chicago area and abroad.

In order to introduce this new series to the community, Victory Health Outreach Center will offer "The Childbearing Year" beginning with "Great Expectations" on Monday, Jan. 13 from 7-9:30 p.m. and continue Monday evenings through Jan. 27. These class sessions are for those parents-to-be in the third through sixth month of pregnancy.

This class will then be followed by "Childbirth With Joy" and "The Post-partum Experience" for the same group. The total 13 sessions cost $60 and will be reimbursed if the baby is delivered at Victory Memorial Hospital. Anyone, however, can enter the program at any session for the same price.

To register for this program or for further information call Victory Health Outreach Center at (312) 356-5900 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Victory Health Outreach Center and Victory Memorial Hospital are committed to providing expectant parents with the knowledge and understanding of pregnancy, childbirth and the challenge of parenting necessary to view "The Childbearing Year" as a great adventure of personal growth.

To Host Gala

On Jan. 12, The Education and Special Events Committee of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., the Lake County Museum and North Chicago Community School are hosting a black history celebration in the high school's auditorium, 1717 17th St., North Chicago. The program begins at 4 p.m.

The program consists of the following: choir singing, dramatic presentations, a slide presentation, an exhibit, and an oratorical presentation. The keynote speaker is Reverend Julius Trimble of the Emmanuel United Methodist Church in North Chicago. There will be refreshments available at the end of the program.

Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. Pres. Donald Strenger said, "This year's theme is Black History: Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow. The program is in commemoration of Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday and in celebration of Black History in Lake County."

For further information, contact Rebecca Goldberg at (312) 526-7878.

K. Roche Completes Training

Keith P. Roche, son of Thomas C. and Bernadette A. Roche of 34734 N. Gerberding Ave., Long Lake, has been appointed a sergeant in the U.S. Air Force.

The new non-commissioned officer completed training in management, leadership, human relations and NCD responsibilities, before being awarded this status.

Roche is a navigation equipment specialist at Dyess Air Force Base, Texas, with the 1993rd Information Systems Squadron.

He is a 1982 graduate of Grant Community High School, Fox Lake.

BUYING A HOME SATELLITE DISH IS COSTLIER THAN YOU THINK.

Before you spend your hard earned money on a satellite receive dish you should learn the facts.

This year popular premium services like HBO and Cinemax will begin scrambling their signals with highly sophisticated electronic encryption devices.

And this new technique won't be limited to just premium services. Many basic cable channels like ESPN, MTV and CNN have announced their intentions to scramble signals.

What does this mean for satellite dish owners?

In addition to paying several thousand dollars for the purchase and installation of a receive dish, it will be necessary to spend hundreds of dollars on descrambling equipment plus pay monthly service fees for each channel received.

Make your decision based on the facts.

Playing Odds Against Safety Increase Risks

By SUSAN MONTGOMERY

Ed and Mary Jo Schavitz were on their way from their home in Wheeling to visit a friend in Antioch one wintry night when a car suddenly pulled out in front of their own car at a rural intersection.

The collision that followed sent the Schavitz' Pontiac Sunbird skidding another eighty feet before it stopped along the roadside.

"Had it not been for the safety belts we were wearing, we would have been killed for sure," said Mary Jo, who was then almost nine months pregnant.

"Our car was totaled in the accident," she said. "I went into labor right after that, and miraculously, our daughter was born the next morning without any complications."

The collision occurred, she said, because the driver of the other vehicle failed to obey a traffic sign and "thought he could make it through the intersection before us."

The Schavitzes were west-bound on Rte. 83 outside Grayslake when the other driver pulled out off Peterson Rd. seconds before they arrived at the intersection.

"It happened so fast that we didn't have time to swerve and avoid the collision," Mary Jo said. "The back end of the other car swung into my side of the car and sent us bouncing around."

"To give an idea of how hard the impact was, the buttons on my coat popped off, and the pressure from the seatbelt left my shirt in shreds," she said.

Fortunately, both Mary Jo and Ed Schavitz received only minor cuts and bruises in the accident.

Their experience is one of many incidents in which the use of seatbelts has saved lives, or prevented serious personal injury from occurring.

Since the new seat belt law was enacted by the state earlier this year, the number of fatalities resulting from car accidents showed a marked decrease over a period of several months, according to Mary Beth Berkoff, a representative for the Illinois Coalition for Safety Belt Use.

More recent surveys for the months of October and November have shown, however, a slight increase in the number of traffic-related deaths, which may be due in part to colder temperatures, she said.

"From our preliminary surveys, we have determined that there has been an increased usage of the safety belts," Berkoff said.

But although reports indicate that seatbelt usage is up, a large number of opponents have criticized the law for interfering with individual rights.

"The highest risk group is going to be the non-belt wearers, mostly young adults," Berkoff said.

The use of seat belts has been proven in many cases to prevent serious injury or death. "It keeps you from being hurled out of the car," Berkoff said.

Another recent incident in which a bus carrying 10 schoolchildren was overturned in Kenosha County, Wis., emphasizes Berkoff's point. All of the children were wearing seatbelts at the time of the accident. None were reported injured.

"The law was never meant to be punitive. The chances of survival increase enormously when you wear seat belts," Berkoff said.

"You're really playing the odds when you don't wear them. It's foolish that people would choose not a void injury," she said.

More Than $20 Million Approved For Facilities

by JANE MITCHELL

Allaying fears that the Navy base will be closed down, a House-Senate Conference Committee approved more than $20 million for new facilities for Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

The joint committee approved the Military Construction and Authorization bill in November.

Great Lakes Lt. Cdmr. Glenn Rodriguez said, "We're glad to have the $20 million. We have some real deficits here in some facilities and this money will help to take care of those."

Half of the money expected to be allocated to Great Lakes will fund new bachelor's enlisted men's quarters. The current ones are considered overcrowded. Five million dollars will go for a new physical fitness facility.

The old one was built before World War II, and had to be demolished, Rodriguez said. The remaining money will pay for diesel training classroom facilities that will allow the Navy to train the sailors how to work on diesel-engined destroyers.

About the probability of Great Lakes being closed, Rodriguez said, "We never really thought it was a possibility because we thought the estimates ($2.5 billion to relocate the facilities) were underestimated."

Rodriguez preferred not to comment on the politics between the Department of Defense's so-called threat last spring to close down Great Lakes in order to gain support from Illinois' Democratic senators for the DOD budget.

However, he said, "There are other factors that come into play, like the impact on a community, that aren't considered when you're looking at it from a Washington point of view. We really weren't that concerned that it would close. The senators and representatives from Washington were in frequent communication with the base."

"The conference's support for the ($20 million construction) funding is indicative that Great Lakes will not be closed," said Mark Kirk, a legislative aide to Rep. John Porter, in Washington.

The nine-month battle to keep open the Great Lakes Naval Training Center conducted by Senators Dixon and Paul Simon, D-Ill. and Rep. Porter has ended, at least for now.

The political battle began last February when Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., chair of the Senate Armed Services Committee requested a list of all possible military bases that could be closed, in order to save the government some money.

"When we heard that the bill was going to go before the House-Senate Conference Committee, we again wrote letters to members about Great Lakes and how important it was, and apparently it worked," Kirk said.

Kirk added, "Great Lakes (NTS) has been the Defense Department's political football to keep the Democratic senators in line. But apparently it backfired."

Porter took action beginning last Spring when not only the Democratic senators would be affected, "but Republicans were too," Kirk said.

The list included names of small bases in the Southwest including New Mexico and Arizona, but unexpectedly it included the Navy's largest training center — Great Lakes.

Placing Great Lakes on the list was considered by Dixon, Simon and Porter as a political ploy, especially after the Senate Armed Services Committee determined that there would be no actual financial benefits by dispersing the Naval Training Center's responsibilities to other bases until the beginning of the next century.

Wave Of Future Is Rent

The wave of the future, as many people are turning to renting furniture and appliances with an option to buy, has hit Lake County in the opening of Rent-A-Center, a franchise of Rent-A-Center of America, based in Kansas.

The new Rent-A-Center has opened at 2703 Grand Ave. in the Douglas Shopping Center in Waukegan.
This is the fourth franchise held by Record, a company that operates three other Rent-A-Centers in the Chicago area.

According to Waukegan's manager, Jerry Malone, Record has intentions of opening eight more such centers in Chicagoland.

Rent-A-Center offers from separate pieces to entire rooms of furniture for rent by the week or month and a complete inventory of name

brand appliances, stereos,
TVs and VCRs.

Brand names like Bassett,
Briarwood, Whirlpool, RCA, Zenith, etc. are to found on the attractive merchandise available for home delivery within 24 hours of a request.

One of the advantages of starting out by renting instead of buying furniture and appliances immediately, is that it allows one to try out the merchandise and return it if they don't like it and all they've lost is the rental fee.

If one buys an item, even on time payments, it is theirs, like it or not.

Rent-A-Center also guarantees to fix or replace any of its products that break or stop working correctly within 24 hours.

With the transient '80s, it is much easier and probably cheaper in the long run for people who work for chain companies that are constantly transferring them, to rent instead of moving households full of furniture constantly.

Any item that is rented is done so with an option to buy, the full rental period being 18 months, at which time the renter owns the item.

Malone also says that the item can be purchased at anytime during its rental,
the longer the rental-time,
the smaller the purchase price.

The idea of renting is also attractive to people who have had credit problems and find it hard to purchase big-ticket items on time. A good record with Rent-A-Center also gives these people a start on reestablishing a good credit record.

The Waukegan Rent-A-Center is offering a grand opening special. The first rental item (choice of any available) will rent for $9.95 per week. The cost of renting the average major appliance is $19 a week.

Applications Being Accepted

Applications are now being accepted for the 1986
North Illinois Today's Little Dream Pageant which will be held on June 28 and 29, at the Holiday Inn in Mundelein. This Pageant is an official preliminary to the National Today's Little Dream Pageant to be held in Florida in the fall of 1986.

In 1985, over $100,000 in cash and prizes was awarded throughout the country. The Today's Little Dream Pageant System is sponsored by a National Organization producing pageants in all 50 of the United States.

The 1985 North Illinois
Today's Little Dream is Heather Vasilopoulos of Romeoville. She will crown the 1986 winners in Mundelein in June.

This Pageant recognizes the individuality of the contestant, and is a family oriented event. It is designed to broaden the contestant's experience, provide means for increased social development, improvement of self image and promotes family unity.

There will be three ages divisions: 4-5-6, 7-8-9 and 10-11-12. The winner of each division will receive a queen's crown, trophy, cash award, 11 x 14 portrait, banner and expense money for a trip to Florida as a guest to compete in the 1986
National Pageant.

Trophies will be awarded to the first four runners-up.
Miss Hospitality, Miss Photogenic, Best Personality and Most Poised.

Every contestant will receive a finalist trophy and a Today's Little Dream Tiara. Contestants must be girls at least four and no more than 12 years of age by
Dec. 31, 1986.

An optional Talent competition is available to all those young ladies who would enjoy performing for an appreciative audience.

Anyone interested in obtaining additional information, references and an application should contact: Donald J. White,
Director North Illinois

The Top Antioch Stories Of 1985

Allen Becomes Supt.

Replacing Warren Polley as superintendent of Antioch Community High School, is present Director of Curriculum, Gary Allen. The decision made at the school board meeting Feb. 21, will be effective July 1, 1985.

Allen has also served as assistant superintendent of ACHS for the past two years. He has been a teacher, coach and department chairman at the high school for the past 17 years.

Toft, Ring Discuss Plans

Only a week after the election and Antioch Village Mayor Raymond Toft and Highway Commissioner Mark Ring are making plans.

Toft is seeing through his promise of bringing a developer in to look at the downtown area.

Dupre To Begin Development

After 25 years of patiently waiting, longtime Antioch resident John Dupre will begin to develop 13.5 acres on the northwest corners of Rtes. 83 and 173.

The Antioch Village Board gave Dupre, 72, and his partner and son, Jack Dupre, the necessary zoning to build an $8 million development which will include a motel, apartment complex, business center and perhaps a professional building.

Winning Team

Mayor elect Raymond Toft and Village Clerk Maryilyn Sterbenz wait out the election results of April 2. Toft beat independent Henry Gillman and Trustee Mabel Lou Weber for another four year term. This will be his fourth term as mayor of Antioch.

Proposed Facelift

A presentation given by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry June 26 unveiled the revitalization plans set for the village. The presentation was at Harbor Ridge Country Club. The State Bank of Antioch, The First National Bank and the Bank of Waukegan gave complimentary cocktails to all in attendance.

Induct Youngest President

Although the Antioch Lions Club is in its 48th year, it's still willing to look in new directions. At the installation meeting, Jan. 14, the club inducted its youngest president ever, 29-year-old Laddie Korecek, part owner of Johnson Jewelers.

Being the head of the largest Lions Club in the district (129 men) will be eventful but exciting for Korecek. He looks ahead to a progressive and productive year.

"I fully respect all of your support in turning our club back to the status it had in the past," said Korecek to his fellow club members.

Fitness Court Gets Funds

The Antioch Village Board approved to pay $2,010 to make up the difference of a grant that the park department received for a fitness court in Williams Park.

Medical Building To Open

It used to be a Pay-Less grocery store. But now the vacant Lake Street building is on its way to becoming a medical and urgent care center.

Mustangs To Seek Strong Defense Against Lake Forest

Mundelein's varsity basketball will have to look towards a strong defense to stop Lake Forest and Libertyville on Jan. 10 and 11 in their first conference game after the Christmas holidays.

"We're going to have to work to stop Lake Forest's outside shooting," said Mustang's assistant coach Keith McLoughlin.

Both teams did extremely well in the holiday tournament at Elgin.

The Mustang's lost their first game against Forest

View 60-52 in the holiday basketball tournament at Elgin. The Falcons took the lead early in first quarter with a score of 21-12.

Forest View widened the gap by another 13 points at the end of the first half. A run at the Falcons toward a lead of five points.

The Mustangs again scored on three straight possessions.

Top scorers for Mundelein was Jay Retzinger with 11 the end of the game brought Mundelein's score up, leaving their opponents with field goals and a finish of 23 points, Tipperreiter scored three points overall and Weiner with six points.

In their game against Grayslake, Mundelein won 55-42 but lost their next tournament game against Dundee-Crown 55-54 in overtime.

Jay Retzinger scored a total of 17 points for Mundelein in that game.

Also scoring were Tipperreiter with six points, Weiner, 12 points, Bond, 10 points, and Geary with nine.

TIME OUT!

A Look At Sports Around Lake County

By Joel Wiltberger

Well, it's over, and for the first time in over a decade, HOD will not have to make a special run for our weekly pick-up, and Visa will not be sending a letter increasing our limit.

Something is up, everyone is in too much of a holiday mood. I know what's on my youngest daughter's mind as she shows off her engagement ring (she doesn't read my column either), but its going to take me a while with the others.

I think it's every parent's goal in life to give their family more than they received. Some, however, get carried away around the holidays, listen to me—a walking authority on the subject—maybe they are just getting older and expect less, finally realizing the true meaning of the holidays—it is better to give than to receive (it's a thought anyway!).

A LOOK AROUND THE COUNTY:

Bear Mania is sweeping the county—it's great, a long time coming—but if I hear or see "The Super Bowl Shuffle" one more time....

Belated "Congratulations" are in order for Coach Don Rowden and his Grant Bulldog Wrestling team in capturing the crown at the Lake County Invitational—indications are this will be Rowden's last year in the coaching field.

Area teams did not fare too well in holiday tournament action this past week with Warren, the only team to make three championship finals (at DeKalb). Zion-Benton's overtime upset of powerful Rich East in the Wheeling tournament was one of the bright spots last week.

I wonder if Crystal Lake Central will be invited back to the Hampshire tournament next year. Their (6-8) center Bill Heppner set a tournament record, shattering two glass backboards in less than a week!

A LOOK BACK:

The year was 1962, it was a battle for the conference crown at Round Lake before an overflow crowd. The Panthers, hungry for their first ever title, were down by as many as 11 points in the fourth quarter against Coach Larry Leons. Antioch Sequoits, when they went into a full court press. Antioch still had the lead 68-61 with three minutes left in the game and in a matter of two-and-a-half minutes, the score was tied, with three seconds to go. Roy Johnson hit from the corner to lift the Panthers to a 70-68 win over Antioch, giving Round Lake a conference title, in one of the greatest basketball games, still remembered by Panther fans.

Rams Idle After Bad Tournament

by DANG O'SHEA

The Grayslake Rams are idle this week after a disappointing last place finish in the Elgin Varsity Holiday Basketball Tournament Dec. 26-27-28. The Rams won't play again until Jan. 7 at Grant.

The Rams lost all three Christmas tournament games, dropping the first to a tough Lake Forest team by a score of 63-47, the second 53-52 to Stevenson and the third game to Mundelein 55-42.

Grayslake coach Greg Groth commented, "We somehow have to turn it around. We aren't getting scoring all the way through our lineup. (Tom) Castino is leading the team and I expected that but we need some 8-10 point games consistently from three or four people."

"Also, earlier in the year, if there was any big plus it was our man-to-man defense. Lately, there have been breakdowns and it's been killing us," he added.

Groth does plan to iron out the problems however. "We have to analyze what has been going on in the first 12 games (6-6 record). We're 2-1 in the (Northwest Suburban) conference and that's what we have to build on. (Daryl) Mackenthun is playing good and some of our juniors are playing well. We need our other seniors and a few other juniors to pick it up."

Against Lake Forest, the Rams shot only 31 percent, 23 of 73 from the field. "That's pretty poor shooting," said Groth. Guard Castino led the Rams with eight points.

Grayslake played a close game against Stevenson. A shot by junior Andy Flood rolling off the rim at the buzzer left the Rams a point short. Castino led again with 18 points, including 10 of 11 free throws. "Castino has been our money man most of the year," said Groth.

Against Mundelein, the Rams again shot just 31 percent, 20 of 64 from the floor.

Also, the Rams were not able to come back from a disastrous first half against Mundelein. Groth commented, "Our first half against Mundelein had to be the worst half of the year."

Castino had 14 points and Melton had eight. Groth praised the play of Melton and juniors Mike Langer and Ray Magiera. "Melton's coming around for us offensively. Magiera, offensively and defensively, did an outstanding job and Langer did an outstanding job on defense."

Grant Bulldogs Prepare For Contender Grayslake

With the experience of a holiday tournament under their belts, the Grant Bulldogs will start up again in conference play when they host the Grayslake Rams Jan. 7 at 7:30 p.m. following the sophomore game.

With a 1-2 conference record (5-6 overall) and 13 games of valuable experience the young varsity Bulldogs are looking forward to start the 1986 year out right.

Head coach Tom Maple, gearing up his Bulldogs during Christmas break, said after six games on the road, he is excited to play for the home crowd.

Grayslake has a good record and is definitely a contender for the upper division, said Maple, adding that the Bulldogs will have to watch out for the strong guard play of Grayslake. It should be an exciting game, he said.

At the DeKalb Holiday tournament, the Bulldogs won their second two games after losing the opening round 66-53 to Sycamore, who placed fourth in the 16-team tournament.

The Bulldogs went on to beat Niles West 62-54 and Hinsdale 61-41 to fall into the consolation play.

In the final round of the four-day tournament, the Bulldogs came on the short end of a 71-50 score against Bremen.

Leading scorer for Grant was Tom Barr with a cumulative 54 points while improved play came from Mike McDonald and Jeff Bieniasz.

Mike Jazlausky started in the tournament after recovering from a knee injury from football season. Marc Borton showed steady play in the tournament.

Maple said the team improved their free throw shooting and is working to turn the corners this season.

"We have not played the best basketball of the year," Maple said. "We have to turn the corners."

Panthers Get Third

The Round Lake Panthers have two Northwest Suburban Conference foes to battle next week as they come off of a third place performance at the Hampshire Holiday Tournament.

Tuesday, Jan. 7, and travels to Johnsburg on Friday, Jan. 10 to play the Skyhawks.

The Panthers defeated Johnsburg 64-51 in the holiday tournament to take the third place trophy.

by Geneva by a score of 86-75.

Senior Doug Sparks scored a career-high 24 points in the losing cause.

Other Panthers in double figures were Frank Plak with 20 and Greg Kreitner with 13.

Round Lake has Wauconda at home on

In their semi-final game, the Panthers were defeated

Despite Myths, Cats Are Lovable And Need People

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

There is a myth that cats and dogs are natural enemies, but more often they become best friends in a household.

There is a myth that cats just can't be taught anything, but they learn to use a litter box in hours. There are cats that learn to walk on leashes, come when called and even learn tricks.

There is a myth that cats always land on their feet. Well, cats do have a righting mechanism that helps them to land on their paws, but they have been known to miss too and get hurt or killed. Cats have been known to fall out of high windows such as in apartments.

The myth about cats having ESP. They cannot see in total darkness, but they can see well in very little light for hunting at night. Their ears are sharp and they can hear things we can't. And yes, they have a great sense of time. Their ancestors in the wild learned when to expect the appearance of prey and peril.

Abandoned cats cannot take care of themselves as many people do believe. Even with all their skills, they are domesticated animals that suffer greatly when left to find their own way.

Then there is the myth that cats are not affectionate. The cat might not express fection for other cats as well.

I talked with a couple of cat owners who had their cats in our pet shows in the past years. This is what they have to say about their pets.

Fluffer is about three years old. He is an unusually big tom cat, but very well-behaved. He is kept indoors all the time and spends much of his time playing with the family dog, an Irish setter Fluffer is owned by Ryan, who is eleven-years-old, and Kristen, three-and-a-half. The Hackl family really enjoys Fluffer.

Kristen will wrap him up in her doll blankets and sometimes he can be found sleeping in her drawer.

Cali is four-years-old. She is a beautiful short-haired calico cat. Her coloring is lovely. She is spayed and never had any kittens.

Cali came to the Oswald home in a fancy Christmas box with a red ribbon around her neck. Santa gave Rob Oswald this two-month-old kitten.

It seems that Cali knows how badly Rob had wished for her as she is very lovable towards him and loves to jump up on his lap and purr for him. The two of them sleep together and Cali likes to get under the blankets and still have his head on the pillow.

Rob, who is twelve-years-old, also has a brother, Donny who is nine years old.

When the two of them want to play race cars, Cali chases the cars around the track on the floor. So, they need to put her up in order to play the game.

Cali also likes to play on the pool table and use her paws to knock the balls into the pockets.

When it come to meal time, she follows in the tracks of Morris the cat.

Cali was in the pet show in 1983 and won the Midnight Award and most like Toby's Angels. In 1984 she put the family through a game of chase for the pet show. She won "Most Colorful."

So, here are two cats who are cut to prove that a myth is just that. These cats are smart, lovable and giving themselves to their families, including the family dog who can also be a good friend.

Pet-Wise

himself like the dog does, but house cats are definitely interested in human contact. They prefer to watch you or listen to your voice from across the room. Some cats love to rub against you or be nuzzled on the forehead. This is the way cats express af-named Kerri.

Kerri is twelve-years-old, but a best friend of Fluffer. They sleep in the living room at night, close to each other.

Fluffer won first place as Morris at the pet show in 1984. He is neutered and his front claws removed.

Bulldogs Out

The Wauconda Bulldogs were knocked out of the Marengo Tournament after two defeats but will prance back on the floor against the Panthers at Round Lake on Monday, Jan. 6.

Too many turnovers and not enough rebounds made victory out of reach for the winless Bulldogs, who met a 66-53 defeat in the first round of the tourney against Huntley.

Wauconda went on to play Harvard in the second round of the tourney on Friday. After having a good glimpse of victory, the Bulldogs lost out by two points, 50-48.

The Bulldogs led by as many as 19 points in the third quarter but Harvard came on strong in the fourth quarter, outscoring Wauconda 19-3.

First National Bank Holds Groundbreaking

The First National Bank of Waukegan has broken ground for its permanent Gurnee office and drive-up banking center at Rte. 41 and Delany Rd.

Participating in the groundbreaking ceremony were Mayors Robert Sabonjian of Waukegan and Dick Welton of Gurnee.

The permanent Gurnee office will be a two-story, 15,000-square-foot steel-framed brick and glass building. The Gurnee office will be a complete, self-contained full-service banking center. It features six drive-in lanes plus a drive-up cash station machine.

The building will be two stories initially but expandable to four stories.

Occupancy is slated for fall, 1986. A temporary banking center will continue to serve Gurnee Customers during construction of the permanent facility.

Architect is Mayes, Vostal of Glen Ellyn. Construction manager is CMI. Among local contractors are Leo J. Fox, Antioch, trucking and excavation, and J.J. Henderson & Son, Inc., Gurnee, concrete.

The expansion into Gurnee is the bank's first office outside of Downtown Waukegan. Gurnee was selected because it puts the bank at the threshold of the Lake County's growing business and residential areas.

In addition to serving hundreds of present and new customers western Waukegan and Gurnee, the bank anticipates this new office will be springboard to serving increasing numbers of personal and business banking customers throughout the county.

With its main office at Washington and Genesee Sts. in downtown Waukegan, The First National Bank, founded in 1852, is Lake County's oldest financial institution.

Bank Breaks Ground

★ YOUR ★ TAX PERSPECTIVE

National Society of Public Accountants
1010 N Fairfax St. Alexandria, Va.
(703) 549 6400

Third in...a series of "tax tip" articles provided by the National Society of Public Accountants and their affiliated State Societies.

Q.—I was unemployed for two months and spent quite a bit of money trying to find a new job. Can I deduct any part of those expenses?

A.—You can deduct the expenses of seeking new employment in the same trade or business that you are in whether you secure the new job or not. But you can't deduct the cost of seeking employment in a different trade or business even if you get the job.

Q.—I am divorced, and have been paying $400 per month to my ex-wife for child support. I have been claiming my two children on my tax return as dependents. My accountant has told me that I will now need to have a new IRS form, signed by my ex-wife, included in my tax return for 1985 if I am to claim the children as dependents. Is this correct?

A.—Yes, it is. Internal Revenue Service Form 8332, Release of Claim to Exemption for Child of Divorced or Separated Parents, is now required to be included in the tax return of the parent claiming the dependency exemption, unless that person is the custodial parent.

Q.—My wife and I were divorced in 1985. What deductions can I claim and can I claim her as my dependent for the part of the year we were married?

A.—You can deduct qualifying alimony payment to her. And these payments can qualify for deduction if made under a written separation agreement even though no court decree has been obtained. Amounts paid for child support are not deductible, but you can arrange who will get the dependency exemption for your children. Your status as of the end of the year determines your filing status. If that is single (divorced) you may not claim your wife as a dependent for any part of the year.

Nov. Sales Show Gain

Illinois retailers reported mixed sales gains in November posting a 4.15 percent increase over the same month a year ago.

Metropolitan Chicago reported a modest rise in sales of 5.02 percent, with Northern Illinois posting a 2.12 percent increase and the Central/Southern region of the state recording a 0.08 percent increase.

November's moderate sales gains aren't necessarily a bad sign. One reason why they might seem low is that last year the month included a full week of the hectic Thanksgiving-to-Christmas shopping that accounts for a sizeable percentage of most retailers' "annual sales", stated David F. Vite, president of the Illinois Retail Merchants Assn.

In November, men's and women's specialty stores reported the highest gains, with a 9.95 percent increase in Metropolitan Chicago, followed by a 8.84 percent increase in Northern Illinois.

Department stores in Metropolitan Chicago posted a gain of 4.62 percent last month, while those in Northern Illinois were up 2.14 percent and 0.50 percent in Central/Southern Illinois.

Local Jobs Lost In Charmglow's Move

by GLORIA DAVIS

Charmglow Products, one of the long-time mainstays of the Bristol Industrial Park, Bristol, will be moving south to DuQuoin, Ill. in the first two months of 1986.

The move of Charmglow, that employed close to 200 people, was announced by Allied Tube and Conduit Corp., Harvey, Ill., a subsidiary of which purchased Charmglow from William Rentschler, Lake Forest, owner of Medart Corp, at the beginning of December for $8.5 million in a leverage buyout.

Charmglow makes national brands of gas grills and children's gym equipment.

The factory building and land in the industrial park is owned by Beatrice Foods, a past owner of Charmglow, in lieu of money still owed Beatrice by Medart in its 1984 purchase of the company.

The Kenosha Area Office Of Economic Development, hoping to replace the job openings, is busy trying to entice a new company into the Charmglow building.

County Firm Acquires Murrie Behm Agency

Poe & Poe Inc., one of Lake County's largest realty firms, is continuing to expand with the acquisition of Murrie-Behm & Associates of Grayslake, prominent real estate brokers in the mid-county area since 1969.

Robert Butler, Poe & Poe president, said the two founders will remain at the facility, 352 Center St., which will become the fourth office of the firm headquartered in Waukegan.

Jacqueline Murrie will serve as sales manager at the Grayslake branch. Raymond Behm will be involved in subdivision development, concentrating immediately on West Trails, a project of fine homes on the west side of Grayslake.

Murrie is a past president of Lake County Board of Realtors. Behm has been active in legislative affairs of the board.

Butler said Poe & Poe will continue emphasizing service in the central and western part of Lake County. The firm also has offices in Antioch and Gurnee.

Poe & Poe was founded in 1951.

Sponsor Seminar

James C. Hamlin, owner of the Comprehensive Accounting Services, 1200 Main St., Antioch, is sponsoring a three-day seminar for business owners in this area.

The seminar, scheduled for Hilton Head Island in South Carolina April 28 to 30, is tax deductible and covers such subjects as how to choose and motivate your employees.

Organizations Needed To Participate In VITA

Community organizations are needed to participate in VITA, the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service.

Special emphasis is currently being placed on recruiting new organizations to offer assistance during the coming filing season. Free income tax assistance is frequently provided by local civic organizations, educational institutions, churches and neighborhood groups.

During the previous filing season IRS trained over 1,500 volunteers who assisted taxpayers at over 250 sites throughout northern Illinois.

VITA volunteers help lower income, handicapped, elderly and non-English speaking individuals who have simple tax returns. Volunteers receive a four-to-five day training course in basic income tax law, taught by specially trained IRS instructors.

More complicated issues, such as business income and sale of assets, are beyond the scope of the program and are excluded from VITA.

Training classes will be conducted in January and February. They are held at the sites of the sponsoring organization either during daytime or evening hours. The IRS will schedule classes for groups of 10 or more who wish to participate.

IRS invites interested organizations to contact the VITA Coordinator by calling (312) 886-4669 from Chicago or 1-800-424-1040 from elsewhere in northern Illinois. Efforts will be made to place individual volunteers sponsoring VITA organizations seeking additional assistants.

Offers Notes

Baxter Travenol Laboratories, Inc. has announced a public offering of $150 million of extendible notes.

The notes mature on Jan. 1, 2001. They may be redeemed at the option of the company or repaid at the option of the holder, in whole or in part, on Jan. 1, 1989.

The notes will carry an interest rate of 8-7/8 percent per annum from the date of issuance to Jan. 1, 1989.

Thereafter, the interest rate on the notes will be adjusted by the company.

Scot Forge Promotes 2

Scot Forge of Spring Grove, an industry leader in open die forging, has announced that Pete Georgeson has assumed the newly created position of chairman of the board and chief executive officer.

In his first act in this new position, Georgeson has promoted Jim McKinley to the position of president and chief operating officer. These changes are effective immediately.

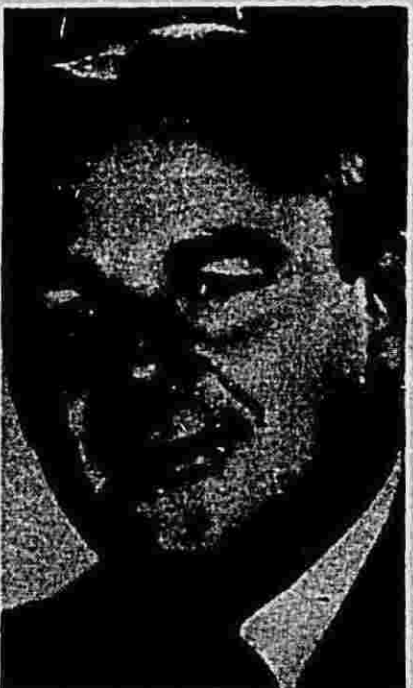

Georgeson has been with Scot Forge for over three decades, beginning as sales manager (for what was then known as Atlas Forgings) in 1954. In 1965 he was elected president of Scot Forge and in 1966 he acquired controlling interest in the company.

McKinley's career at Scot Forge began in 1966 when he came to the sales department after extensive experience in the Steel Service Center industry. In 1971 he became vice-president, and he was elected executive vice-president in 1978.

Scot Forge has facilities in Cicero and Clinton, Wis., in addition to its Spring Grove headquarters and plant. It manufactures both hammer and press forgings—in sizes ranging from 5 to 40,000 lbs.

Intrupa Ends Chicago Operation

Intrupa Manufacturing Company has begun operations at its new corporate headquarters and distribution center in Grayslake.

The manufacturer of lift truck parts acquired the 87,000 square foot former Acme Burgess facility on Illinois Rte. 83.

The Village Board of Trustees of Grayslake authorized the issuance of $2,000,000 in industrial revenue bonds for Intrupa's acquisition of the facility.

Intrupa ended all operations at its Chicago facility at 4853 N. Ravenswood Ave. and plans to employ approximately 90 people at its new Grayslake facility.

Career Week

CENTURY 21 offices throughout the metropolitan area will participate in the second annual CENTURY 21 Career Opportunity Week, Jan. 13-16. Last year, approximately 11,000 potential new sales associates were recruited nationwide by the CENTURY 21 system during the week-long event. More than 300 people joined CENTURY 21 offices in the Chicago area as a result of Career Opportunity Week last year.

Business Briefs

Hotel Name Selected

The newest hotel in northern Illinois, now under construction, will be named "Tamara Royale Inn." The name was selected out of 207 entries in a contest. The place is being developed by John Tyshenko and his wife, Tamara, who also own and operate Chateau Royale in Lake Geneva.

Home & Energy Show

Housed in temporary structures, the Eighth Annual Home & Energy Show will be back at its original home, the Arlington Park Race Track, for an April 2-6 run. Heavy vinyl stretched over aluminum framing will house exhibits to replace the exposition hall destroyed by fire.

Study Job Openings

Sen. Jack Schaffer (R-McHenry) has been named to a new legislative study committee on employment which will investigate job placement in Illinois. Goal of the committee will be to get more people, particularly welfare recipients, into jobs. The committee will be working with "Project Chance," Gov. Thompson's plan to train 100,000 unemployed persons for non-subsidized jobs.

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) Problems in the head area may need attention. (I know you're adorable, but your hearing may not be as acute as it should be.) Early attention avoids trouble.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) There's lot of traffic in your life that can drive you up the wall if you don't find time to relax. Make a list of priorities; leave time for yourself.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Your inability to make changes in a shaky situation may be due to the other side's reluctance to cooperate with your efforts. Ease off and wait to see the reaction.

Cancer (June 21-Jul. 22) Unsettled conditions can cause accidents. But don't delay important commitments. Step carefully. Tread warily. Look for possible hidden obstacles.

Leo (Jul. 23-Aug. 22) A chance to enhance a romantic relationship might require a commitment you weren't ready for. Weigh your response lest you let someone special get away.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Unbend a little more than you usually do and you might find yourself looking at things from a new vantage point. You might sight new opportunities too.

Libra (Sep. 23-Oct. 22) Strengthen your positive attitudes to counter a negative aspect that might otherwise shake your confidence. Stand firm. Believe in yourself.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Relationships with the opposite sex may not go smoothly for a while. Expect some emotional storms to develop. Remain calm, loving and supportive throughout.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Relationships with other age groups dominate this aspect. Reach out to older folks; be there for youngsters who will need you. Show patience and understanding.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Well-meant criticisms can be painful rather than helpful. Treat well-intentioned words like medicine: too much can hurt rather than heal.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) You'll soon be in a position to make decisions that will affect the lives of many people. Approach this responsibility with your usual wisdom and courage.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) A friend may choose to develop a case of instant amnesia rather than admit to being wrong about you. Take your satisfaction in knowing others know the truth.
